Menkin Is San Bruno Mgr.

By BOB PETERSON

San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Manager Christopher "Kit" Menkin, Monday night was named full-time city manager of that city over the vehement protest of Councilmen George Corey and Maurice Hamilton.

Menkin, 28, is scheduled to begin at city hall on August 1. His salary will be $16,000 a year.

Councilman Ted Long made the motion to appoint Menkin to the city's top position. It was seconded by Councilman Dick Griffith and Mayor Neil Christal cast the deciding vote.

Hamilton began his remarks by saying, "I do not personally oppose Kit. He's a very capable young man. But I must object to the premature and hasty action."

Corey came on much stronger, calling the move the "rottenest political thing I've seen since I've been here (in San Bruno)."

Both councilmen made note of the fact there were more than 80 applications for the position, most of which have not been reviewed by all the councilmen.

"Not a single councilman has had the opportunity to see the applications," said Hamilton. "I haven't ever seen Menkin's yet."

Hamilton explained that it has been a long practice of the city to screen all applicants carefully. Once screened, applicants were given personal interviews. "None of this has been done in this case," said Hamilton. "Other than about 20 minutes of discussion this evening of Menkin only."

This was done in an executive session prior to the regular council meeting.

"I oppose this as a disservice to Menkin and was a disservice to the community," said Hamilton.

Corey explained the councilmen had agreed to put the applications in five separate packets with rating sheets. The idea being the councilmen could review these packets and rate the applicants. This would be followed by an interview with the applicants receiving the highest ratings.

"Even when we hire the lowest paid man in the city, the personnel board goes to the trouble of reviewing the top three applicants before hiring," said Corey.

He said he had not completed the review of his packet, but had already rated five persons as "exceptionally well qualified."

"What disturbs me," said Corey, "is that I'm being totally excluded from any selection process. No single person, not even Menkin, was called in before the council. This, to me, is the most blatant political effort of any in this city.

"One cannot help feel there was a back door deal," continued Corey in his tirade. "Menkin comes to work under the darkest cloud conceiveable. One has to think he participated. You are going to hear why they (the majority) favor Menkin, including the others, even those they haven't seen. Listen to those justifications."

Motion-maker Long said that the charge of political appointment was "sheer nonsense." He pointed to Menkin as "a man who has been praised" by everyone in the city who has dealt with him.

"They (Corey and Hamilton) are upset because we didn't waste time talking to all those people. My decision is based on a pattern no other person meets. He is well qualified, he is a resident, and he wants the job. To talk to a lot of people will not alter those qualifications of Menkin," said Long.

Vandalism Still Plagues Schools, Churches In DC

More than $27,000 in theft and vandalism losses were suffered last year by the Jefferson Union High School District, Glenn South, assistant superintendent for business informed the board of trustees last week.

A breakdown submitted to the board by South noted that $15,847— better than half the loss — was in glass breakage alone.

Local residents are paying between one cent and one-and-a-half cents of the tax rate each year to repair damages to schools caused by vandals, it was explained.

Theft was responsible for $8,086 of the total loss, while vandalism in general was $3,761.

South said other expenditures centering around increased vandalism at the high schools included the use of special patrols being used in an effort to curtail the malicious activity on various campuses.

All of the district's schools have installed alarm system with direct line into the local police communications center at city hall.

The administrator said he hoped the alarm systems would "deter those persons bent on entry."

"Particularly troublesome this summer has been the attack on school buildings with pellet guns. Residents living near schools are asked to immediately report any suspicious malicious activity to the local police department," the board was informed.

Police said much of the damage is being perpetrated by juveniles between the ages of seven to 13 years old.

Several children have been apprehended in the act of vandalism and parents have been required to pay the damages.

D.C. Business Tax Revised By Council

Daly City officials have reappraised their initial stand on the controversial business license tax and have substantially reduced their previous figures.

Instead of the $250,000 in revenues the proposed tax would have brought in, the modified version will net an estimated $135,000, city manager David Rowe said Monday.

This would leave some $87,000 to be raised by property taxes — perhaps eight cents per $100 of assessed valuation, thus boosting the present tax rate to $1.89.

Earlier, the city hiked the water rate by ten cents per hundred feet. This boiled down to an increase in monthly water bills of about $1.50 per month.

Since the proposed business license tax first was aired two months ago merchants in the city have joined forced to protest the "gross receipts" category of the draft ordinance.

If passed, this would have jumped some stores from the current $18 per year fee to more than $10,000.

Under the revised version brought out Monday night during a public study session, businesses would have a choice in determining their annual tax under the "gross receipts" or "number of employees" categories.

As an example, a shop that would have been required to pay more than $10,000 in annual fees would now drop to about $4,000 under the "gross receipts" category, and substantially less under the "number of employees" category.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said, "I think we're now being fair to everyone in our community."

The mayor said he had talked with a cross section of local businessmen on the matter and now had a better idea on how to approach the issue.

Lycett also held a series of meetings on the subject with councilman McRobert Stewart and Rowe during revision of the draft in recent weeks.

On August 6 city officials have scheduled to meet with representatives of the business community to further hash out problems surrounding the proposal.

Councilman Louis J. Papan reserved his opinion on the latest revision pending what he called "the effect on the tax rate — how homeowners will fare. . . ."

Mayor Lycett in bearing the outline noted primary objections and concerns brought out during

Food Stamps For Needy

Daly City's needy low income families will soon be able to pick up their food stamps at a centrally located distribution center within easy reach of their homes.

Councilman Louis J. Papan, along with First National Bank of Daly City executive officer Fred Mommer, Mrs. Ivy DeWit and Mrs. Madge Bradstreet of the NAACP, work out a system whereby the much-needed stamps can be purchased at the War Memorial Building on Mission Street on prescribed weekly dates.

Papan praised all three for their "intense interest" in aiding the needy people in the city.

"Although the food stamp problem is not fully resolved, we are trying," Papan said.

The matter had been discussed by the council, Mrs. Bradstreet and Mrs. DeWit on numerous occasions over the past several weeks.

Last month, Papan was appointed a committee of one to assist the group in finding a new location for distribution and sales of the government-sponsored stamps.

Previous to Monday's action the city's needy had to travel several miles to buy the stamps.

It was noted during earlier discussions on the matter that many of the families were without transportation.

Griffith Nixes Budget

San Bruno councilman Dick Griffith Monday night took a verbal swipe at the city's budget and said that in good conscience he could not vote for it.

"That I cannot vote for this budget is intended as no criticism of the other councilmen who voted according to their own rights," said Griffith.

"The budget was prepared hurriedly by the retiring city manager, who left in the middle of council deliberations with many questions not fully answered," he said, going on to explain the items that bothered him.

He cited "the imbalance" of the personnel salary decisions.

"While firemen were offered a maximum of 7.3 per cent, a schedule of 40 salaried personnel including department heads were granted a total of $9,648 in excess of this percentage without review by the council.

"As part of the same resolution prepared by the city attorney, but without the full understanding of the council as to its effect, the city attorney's salary was increased by 25.5 per cent," contended Griffith. "This and similar substantial raises for the assistant city attorney and legal secretary added a total of $4,553 to the city legal department's personnel budget."

Griffith said this year had been termed an "austerity" year. "But no real effort was made to review the $78,756 in part-time summer and relief help.

"Not a single dime was cut from the original proposal," charged Griffith. "It includes street department, $10,000; sanitation department, $3,500; engineering department, $4,510; water department, $3,600; park department, $5,500 and recreation department $42,700.

"My objection to these expenditures is that they are generally not for job-described positions. While they are justified as meeting the need of college students for summer work they are not assigned on the basis of need. This entire program needs to be reviewed to reconsider the propriety of hiring family members of city officials and the hiring of more than one member from a family."

Griffith then struck out at the reduction of the sewer bond tax, from .026 to .009, by adding 35 cents a month to the water bill sewer charge. "This is a subter-

CAUSE STILL UNKNOWN

Daly City Mother, Daughter In Puzzling Double Death

More Tests Ordered By S.M. Coroner

A preliminary autopsy performed by the County Coroner's Office Monday failed to provide any clues in the mysterious deaths of a Daly City mother and her 15-year-old daughter.

Coroner's investigator Robert Cawley said the strongest thing found in the stomachs of the pair was some prescribed medication.

Cawley said his office had deferred making a decision on the cause of death pending results of toxicological and microscopic tests which should be completed this week.

Three sealed and stamped letters written by the woman are being held by Cawley.

One of the letters is addressed to Mrs. Harriet Schacher's 16-year-old son, Jon-David, presently residing with his grandmother in Guatemala.

Another letter was addressed to Mrs. Schacher's mother.

Investigators are hoping the contents of the letters will provide some leads to the reason and method of death.

Truth Serum Enters Trial

A psychiatrist yesterday told the jury in the Ernest (Doc) Holbrook murder trial that he interviewed the defendant, who claims an alcoholic blackout for the killing, under truth serum Saturday.

A tape recording of the interview was played, out of the presence of the jury of six men and six women, for Judge Louis B. Dematteis and Deputy District Attorney John O'Leary. The judge was to decide today whether the jury will be allowed to hear the tape.

Earlier yesterday, the sixth day of trial, the 22-year-old defendant took the witness stand and repeated his claim that his mind is almost totally blacked out as to the details of the fatal shooting last December 23 of 17-year-old Jose Fernando Vega of San Bruno in the Bunny Stop bar in Pacifica.

Under questioning by his lawyer, Nathan Cohn, Holbrook said he had only two "flashes" that might have been connected with the shooting; a clock showing the time at 1:45 and "somebody running toward me."

Cohn has been attempting to prove that Holbrook, a Pacifica resident, acted in self defense when he shot the San Bruno youth and that he was too drunk to have premeditated the killing. O'Leary's case is that Holbrook, following an argument with Vega over a pool game, went to his home at 432 Beaumont Avenue for a gun, returned to the Bunny Stop and shot the youth. The state is asking for a first-degree murder verdict but not the death penalty.

The testimony about the truth serum interview offered by Dr. Faribors Amini, a San Francisco psychiatrist and assistant professor at University of California Hospital, came as a surprise to O'Leary. The prosecutor and defense attorney were to argue the admissibility of the tape as the trial resumed today.

Dr. Amini said he administered sodium amytal to Holbrook in his office Saturday to "bypass his consciousness and recapture what he cannot remember." The defendant is free on $25,000 bail.

Earlier yesterday Holbrook, a good looking man with dark, curly hair, told the jury about embarking on a drinking spree after work on the day preceding the shooting. The defendant was employed as a driver for a delivery service.

Holbrook said he could not remember being at the Bunny Stop that night. His first "good recollection," he said, was being booked at county jail. Under questioning by Cohn, the defendant said he could not recall being arrested.

Under cross-examination by O'Leary, Holbrook said he could not remember telling police, "I shot him. I shot him." and "I didn't mean to kill him."

Two Notes Sent To Neighbor

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Authorities were attempting to piece together today the strange circumstances surrounding the death of a 45-year-old Daly City woman and her 15-year-old daughter who were found dead in their beds Sunday night.

Whether the deaths of Mrs. Harriet Schacher and her daughter, Monica, was a suicide pact or a murder-suicide, could not be determined immediately, Coroner Paul Jensen said.

Although the mother, a widowed seamstress, left specific instructions in her own handwriting on funeral arrangements, she took the reason for and daughter had been dead for several days—since last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Schacher left two notes, the deaths to the grave with her.

Jensen said both the mother one typewritten and the other in her own handwriting, to a close friend who lived only two houses away from her home at 237 Mariposa Avenue.

In the typewritten note to the friend, Mrs. Peggy Warren, the distraught woman pleaded: "Don't feel sad for me, be glad

Bruno Firemen Remain On Job

No change today in the possible strike situation of San Bruno firemen.

Harvey "Dutch" Harmelink, representative of the International Association of Firefighters, said the firemen met with the county labor council Monday night but the strike sanction request was referred to the council's executive board.

According to Harmelink, the executive board meets Friday night and the San Bruno firemen are going to "sit tight" until then.

At last night's San Bruno council meeting, Mayor Neil Christal acknowledged receipt of a telegram from Harmelink in which the representative suggested he and the councilmen get together concerning the impasse.

Councilman Dick Griffith of San Bruno earlier accused the mayor of making incendiary and inflammatory statements about a threatened strike of firemen. The fire chief got into the fray by stating a firemen's strike is unthinkable.

San Bruno Mayor Neil Christal Thursday issued a statement that firemen "wanted to strike since the beginning of the wage negotiations with the city two months ago."

Griffith today accused the mayor of exceeding his authority in issuing statements "calculated to provoke" a strike.

Griffith also called upon the fire fighters "not to fall into this trap designed to alienate public sympathy and nip their unionism in the bud."

Himself a union postal employe, Griffith asked that the firemen "cool it" by not asking for strike sanction. But instead to concentrate their efforts in "broadening their spectrum of occupational representation" on the city council, reforming COPE, the political endorsing arm of their affiliation, and "zeroing in on the waste fat embedded throughout the San Bruno city budget far in excess of their measly request of a two hour reduction for one-half year."

Griffith said, "The mayor's position is only that as presiding officer at council meetings and honorary representative at public functions. He does not have the authority to make inflamatory anti-union statements on behalf of the council, to predict strikes as inevitable, to call the governor for strike breakers in advance, nor to distort the firemen's case to the public.

for me that it's all over."

The note went on: "I tell you it took a Hell of a lot of arranging, but in the end I did it right, I guess. There are reasons, of course, one of which you know, but the others I'll take with me to wherever. . . ."

She told her friend that she had been a true confidant and at one point in the note said "Bless you Peggy . . . " and then went on to condemn the "whole lousy stinking country."

The note concluded that "this time (it's) for real."

Nowhere in either note did the victim indicate the reason for her action.

Since the death of her husband two years ago Mrs. Schacher had been distraught, Jensen said, however investigators could find no immediate reason for the death of the daughter, a Serramonte High School student.

At the bottom of the typewritten note, a handwritten postscript read:

"You know I had to take Monica (the daughter Susan Monica) with me, don't you? To whom was I going to leave her?"

Another child, 16-year-old Jon-David, is presently working in the family business in Guatemala, South America and authorities were attempting to contact him.

The notes were sent to Mrs. Warren tucked away in the pocket of a coat Mrs. Schacher had borrowed from her friend.

Mrs. Warren and her family were out of town camping last week and received the coat through a neighbor on her return.

Police were called immediately.

The house was locked and police were forced to enter through a bathroom window. The door to Mrs. Schacher's room was also locked, however the daughter's bedroom door was open and Monica lay in bed clothed in her nightgown. Police found Mrs. Schacher in bed and also wearing night clothes.

The house was "neat as a pin" a poilceman noted. There were notes and invoices attached to the various pieces of furniture throughout the house to indicate that they were paid for and to whom they were to be given.

On the kitchen table was an opened package of cottage cheese.

The coroner's office is running tests on the cheese to see if it contained drugs or poison.

A remark was made in the handwritten note:

"I, we leave this land we hope to find a better one."

S.S.F. Work Experience Program Termed Successful By 163 Students

Recently released by the South San Francisco School District was it's annual report on the progress of the Work Experience Education Program and, by all estimates, it's proven successful for another year.

During the school year, 163 students from El Camino, Baden and South San Francisco High Schools took part in the program.

Many were given work assignments during school hours and usually allowed an average release time of two periods to receive credit for the work experience.

After the semester, the student employers were asked to fill out an evaluation sheet to indicate whether or not they were satisfied with the students progress.

As it turned out, particpants in the program, were unanimous in their praise. An accounting firm office manager said of his pupil, "Our student is rapidly learning new duties." A telephone company represesentative reported their student has been "prompt, courteous, cooperative and a pleasure to work with. She is willing to do more than she is asked to do and is interested in her work and eager to learn." A grocery store owner said, "Barry is learning each day and is becoming more capable in performing his job at the store. He is a valued employe."

Students are entitled to five units of credit for each semester's participation in the program. The work on their jobs on the average of 150 hours a semester.

Selection of the job is important since credit cannot be given unless: The job is approved by the Work Experience Office and the student's counselor, a copy of the student's work permit is on file in the Work Education Office covering the period for which credit is to be granted.

It is deemed to have significant educational value under the vocational, general or exploratory program.

Some of the jobs students worked at last semester included bank clerk, bookkeeper, reporter, truck helper, shoe clerk and telephone operator.

Court Asked To Prohibit Picketing

Officials of the Georgia Pacific Corporation have asked the Superior Court to prohibit mass picketing at its plant at 249 East Grand Avenue, South San Francisco.

The plant, where corrugated shipping containers are manufactured, was struck last Thursday after the Printing Specialties and Paper Products Union broke off contract negotiations. The union, the petition states, represents 144 employes there. Another 40 employes are not represented by any union.

Plant manager Ward H. Francillon filed a declaration with the petition stating that last Thursday a "mob" of pickets blocked the plant's five entrances. Francillon said the pickets "physically and forcibly prevented plant, clerical and executive employes of plaintiff from going in and coming out." Trucks were also blocked, Francillon said, and South San Francisco police advised him that they were powerless to act in the absence of a court injunction.

The petition asks the court to restrain the union from maintaining more than one picket at each gate, from interfering in any way with persons and vehicles entering and leaving the plant, and from "engaging in violence and threatening the same."

According to the petition contract negotiations were started May 22, the contract expired on July 16 and negotiations were broken off the following day.

'Unknowing Witness'

Reports Theft, Her Sister Is Arrested

In a bizarre string of events a Pacifica housewife reported seeing a burglary being carried out which unknowingly involved her sister .

Leroy Ferris and his wife, Roberta, both 32, of Serra Drive, Pacifica, were apprehended along with brothers John and Robert Masters, of San Francisco, by police captain Ray Shipley several miles from the scene of the burglary.

Ironically, the suspects were seen carting away a color television set from the Joyce Espinosa home, Crespi Drive, by Mrs. Ferris' sister who lives in the neighborhood.

According to Pacifica police, the witness did not see her sister, only the two brothers and called police.

Shortly after, Captain Shipley spotted the four suspects in the Sharp Park area and followed their car to Daly City where he apprehended them in the Serramonte section after the arrival of support police units.

The four suspects are charged with burglary, conspiracy and possession of burglar tools and are being held in lieu of $12,500 bail each.

Driver Sees Fire, Grabs Garden Hose

A fire which started in the rumpus room and was contained to one spot but in another 15 minutes might have enveloped the home, caused $2,000 damage last night in burlingame. No one was injured.

The fire was at 2 Winchester Place, the home of Mrs. Virginia W. Gutierrez.

A passing motorist, John Chapclone, discovered the blaze and alerted a neighbor, at 4 Winchester Place. She phoned the fire department.

Chiapclone attacked the flames from the basement rumpus room window with a garden hose.

When the fire department arrived, smoke was pouring out of the structure.

Neighbors told the firemen that a small child might still be in the house, so two men forced the front door and made a search of the home with air packs on. Their search turned up no one.

D.C., Pacifica Mark Growth

Two North County cities — Daly City and Pacifica soared in population growth in the last ten years, outdistancing the growth rate of the rest of the county, according to preliminary census figures.

Daly City racked up a gain of 17,845 people, from the 44,791 resident it had in 1960. With 62,636 residents, it now stands as the county's second largest community, next to San Mateo.

Pacifica showed the greatest growth rate of any San Mateo County city, almost doubling its growth rate from 20,995 ten years ago to 36,756.

The county as a whole registered a solid growth rate of 24 per cent and a new total population of 550,901, but that by no means was as dramatic as the increase in Santa Clara County and specifically, San Jose.

The city of San Mateo continued to head the county as the county's largest city with 78,606 residents, an increase of 8,736.

Kidnap, Assault Charged

A Daly City man was arrested Saturday night in Redwood City after a detective shot out a tire of his car when the suspect showed up to keep a date with a girl he allegedly had kidnaped and forced into an unnatural sex act earlier in the day.

Booked at county jail on charges of kidnaping, sex perversion and assault with a deadly weapon was Noel Brooks, 22, a mechanic, of 870 Higate Drive, Daly City.

The assault with a deadly weapon charge stems from the assertion that Brooks' car almost ran down Sheriff's Inspector Rudy Siemssen when the latter and Redwood City Police Detective Earl Hahn attempted to take Brooks into custody in the parking lot of a market at El Camino Real and Jefferson Avenue shortly after 8 p.m. Saturday.

An 18-year-old Redwood City girl told Sheriff's Deputy Joseph Horne that she was hitch-hiking home from a friend's house at 1:30 a.m. Saturday when a man stopped to offer her a ride on Fifth Avenue.

Instead of driving her home, the man drove to a location on Ticonderoga Drive in the San Mateo Highlands, forced her to partially disrobe and made her commit the act, the girl related.

After she had persuaded the man to drive her home instead of forcing her out of the car in the Highlands area, the victim told him she liked him and would like to see him again, getting him to agree to meet her in the Redwood Cty parking lot between 8 and 8:30 o'clock that night.

After being dropped off by the man at Alameda de las Pulgas and Jefferson, the girl walked to the Redwood City police station where officers contacted the sheriff's office.

When the victim talked to Hahn and Siemssen she agreed to arrive for the meeting, stating she would drop her purse to the ground if the suspect appeared.

After the girl dropped her purse when Brooks drove up, the detectives pulled their unmarked car in front of his vehicle and approached the driver, identifying themselves as police officers, Hahn reported.

Hahn said Brooks placed his car in reverse and accelerated, nearly knocking down Siemssen. Hahn fired two shots, flattening the right front tire of Brooks' car, and Brooks "stopped the car immediately" and was taken into custody, the detective eported.

Eastman Named To County EOC

Daly City Councilmn Louis J. Papan Monday nominated Edward Eastman for reappointment to another two-year term on the San Mateo County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Papan, in making the nomination, praised Eastman and noted "he is always willing to give of his time to help our city whenever the need should arise."

The nomination was unanimously upheld by the council.

Federal Grant Approved For Park Site In S.S.F.

A grant of $38,500 toward the purchase price of a park site in South San Francisco on land once destined for duplexes, but that use contested by residents has been approved by the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The money represents one-half of the purchase price of 1.3 acres of land the city bought from William Botieff and investors. The property is located at the north end of Camaritas Avenue, near the Alta Loma School.

According to City Mgr. Tom McKenzie, the county has already earmarked one-quarter of the remaining cost of the purchase under the county open lands policy. This leaves the city to come up with the other quarter.

The city already has paid $75,596 to the title company for the land, according to McKenzie. He said the city also spent $450 to have the property appraised and $250 to have the Botieff books audited.

The appraiser, Sherman McCormick, of Mountain View, appraised the property at $78,000, market value as of January 15, 1970. He submitted a 24-page report.

In his report he said, "The property is approved on the basis of being suitable for duplex development, and this is considered to be the highest and best use."

Reason for the audit was because at the time the property was purchased Botieff was in the midst of plans to construct a cluster of nine duplexes on the 1.3 acre plot.

The duplex plan was contested by the South San Francisco Unified School District and irate local residents who challenged a vote reversal by planning commissioners granting a use permit to build the duplexes.

Botieff and his partners—Mr. and Mrs. N. Bruno, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell—said they would sell the property to the city for a park for what they had invested in it.

An audit back in January by Ledwith Chagaris and Company, certified public accountants, showed investments in the property totaled $74,894.10.

The breakdown showed the purchase price of the land in 1964 at $53,648.38. Interest and late charges on the first deed were $7,229.31. Interest on a commercial loan was $415.35.

Real estate taxes were $5,139.10 with $1,516.38 of that outstanding for delinquent taxes.

Cost of preliminary drawings on seven duplexes was $540. Architect fees on the nine duplexes were $2,001 with $851 outstanding. Topography survey cost was $3,757.56 with $2,903.37 outstanding.

The attorney's Botieff and his investors used during the council sessions related to the matter cost $500, all of this amount as of the January 2 report was outstanding. Another outstanding item was $22.10 for "joint ventures meetings."

Also listed was the city's capacity interest charge of $1,498 and two use permit fees at $20 each.

This schedule of costs incurred by Botieff, also known as Bay Developers, was for the period of April 8, 1964, when the property was purchased, to December 23, 1969. Total outstanding charges of the $74,894.10 investment, as of the January 2, 1970, report, was $5,792.85.

Griffith 'No' On Budget

fuge which does nothing more than discharge old sewer bond obligations," said Griffith. "But it has misled even one councilman (apparent reference to Councilman Ted Long) into thinking it provides for advanced ecological needs."

A pet peeve of Griffith's came under fire next. "The $1,000 expenditure for the City Hall Newsletter should have been deleted since this is a frivolous item in either an election or non-election year," he said.

He also said the approval of $5,500 for special projects for the city's planning consultant "is presumptive of the outcome" of a hearing on Phase I of the Housing Element.

"Two items should not have been cut back," said Griffith. "A $4,000 reserve for new equipment in the fire department represented a sound fiscal practice, and one full time park utility man is desperately needed as our park system is not presently well maintained."

Theft Is Reported

San Bruno police report the theft of $340 in cash last week from Tanforan Shell, 1199 El Camino Real.

According to the police, station manager Ralph Cazel had the money in a bank bag, ready for deposit. He was around one side of the building cleaning the area when someone apparently sneaked into the station and made off with the bag.

Police said the empty bag was found by a citizen on Junipero Serra, near the national cemetery.

Business Tax Is Revised

public hearings was the disproportionate share of the burden placed on retail businesses.

This was coupled with a lack of recognition on the part of the city to differ in the earning rate or profit ratio among retail businesses — some stores having a bigger profit on sales than others.

He said there was also a "need for greater equity" between retail, wholesale, professional and service business classifications.

A "declining rate" in the gross receipts application is also provided.

Other major changes include apartment rentals.

In the initial draft, apartments had been taxed at the rate of $15 plus $5 per unit over five. This amount has dropped to $15 plus $3 per unit over five.

The Henry Doelger Corporation, as an example, owns some 3,000 units in Daly City and would be required to pay an annual business license fee of some $9,000.

Bowling alleys and theaters will be taxed on a flat rate classification rather than by seats and lanes.

Explosion Hits Dirt Trucks

Explosion and fire destroyed two huge dirt haul trucks and damaged several others at the R. A. Rogers & Company storage yard in Brisbane early Sunday morning.

Fire Chief Dutch Moritz labeled the incident sabotage and said an investigation by police was underway.

A company watchman, John Smith, was in his trailer-office about 25 feet from one of the trucks involved in the blast and narrowly escaped serious injury and possible death in the initial blast.

The saboteurs removed the drain plugs from the fuel tanks on eight trucks, let the fuel run down a slight slope and set it off with road flares.

Nine firefighters on two pieces of fire equipment battled the stubbord blaze for almost four hours.

"We brought the fire under control almost immediately but we were out almost four hours on (the fire)," Chief Moritz said.

The trucking firm was supposed to take over a dirt haul contract for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District today after the district withdrew a similar contract from a smaller company last week.

Whether this had anything to do with yesterday's incident was being checked out, according to authorities.

No monetary loss had been set by company officials who were unavailable for comment, however a spokesman said the company has posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible for the act.

There were 25 company trucks parked in the yard at the time and "it was obvious they planned to burn the entire yard," police said.

Mammini To ABAG Assembly

South San Francisco Councilman Frank Mammini has been appointed that city's representative to ABAG (Association of Bay Area Governments).

ABAG's general assembly meets Thursday in Berkeley to review the regional plan for 1970-1990.

Menkin Named Manager

"Menkin comes with qualifications we should welcome. He will lead us into a decade of enthusiasm.

"Should we go through the mental gymnastics simply to allow other people a chance to represent themselves when we have in Menkin someone who has the qualities we desire, the willingness to stand on those issues and a background in understanding the social problems of this city.

"I've looked at enough applications to know the best man I could find would only be equal to the choice I've made. And I feel that choice is honorable and proper."

Long made a point of mentioning that "no person on this council has ever approached me or asked me to agree (to the choice of Menkin). This has been jammed down your (the citizen's) throat just like everything else—apartments, use permits, etc.—is jammed down your throat on a 3-2 vote."

Griffith was the only councilman who apparently had seen most of the applications. "There is one folder I didn't see," said Griffith. "I did see Menkin's and it is a standout.

"All councilmen have observed Menkin close at hand," continued Griffith. "I'm very solidly behind this appointment, and I think he will be a great sset to the city."

Menkin, incidentally, was sitting in the audience, which is not unusual as he is a member of the audience at nearly every council meeting.

After the vote he spoke. "I work best under pressure," said Menkin. "This (the split vote) will not be that hard for me," adding he would get together with Corey and Hamilton to explain "what they don't understand."

"The best election in April showed that the people wanted a change," continued Menkin. "I would like you to give me a chance and see if I can make the difference (the public apparently is seeking)."

One resident, Ruth Harris, before the council on another matter, remarked on the entire proceeding. "I do think you should take a little more time. It sounded awful, a little frightening."

Mayor Christal called for a brief executive session following the council meeting to establish the salary for Menkin. Storming out of the council chambers, Corey commented, "I'm not participating in that no way, shape or form. The salary may already be set." It was learned later that Councilman Hamilton was not present for the 1 a.m. executive session either.

Manager of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce since July of 1969, Menkin previously had been a producer for ABC News, Los Angeles Bureau, from May of 1969 to June of 1969.

He served as managing editor of ABC's KGO-TV News in San Francisco from August of 1968 to May of 1969 when he was promoted to the Los Angeles post.

Prior to his affiliation with ABC, Menkin served from January of 1967 to July of 1968 as administrative assistant to Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, and before that, from October of 1964, he was news editor for radio station KFRC, of RKO General Broadcasting.

Installation

Dr. E. C. O'Donnel accepted the gavel from President Bruce Raudabush for the 1970-1971 term.

MILITARY LEADER

FT. LEWIS, Wash. — Cadet Thomas S. Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donn S. Pearson, 1163 Crespi Drive, Pacifica, is receiving six weeks practical application in military leaderships at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps' advanced summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Wash., from June 19 to July 30.

He is one of approximately 17,000 young men expected to attend ROTC summer camps at various military installations throughout the nation.

While at camp, the cadet will train as a small unit leader and instructor in realistic exercises, and receive command experience and an opportunity to apply classroom knowledge in the field.

Brunan Lodges Conflict Charge

San Bruno Councilman Dick Griffith says he sees a conflict of interest in San Bruno City Attorney Joe Galligan and Personnel Commissioner Donald Risso sitting as Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

"This becomes particularly evident when these men become primary advocates of the MacDonald Hamburger chain in a chamber meeting the morning after a use permit for the corporation has been turned down by the City Council," said Griffith.

The matter of seeking a new location for MacDonald's within the city was brought before the board by Galligan. "Such blanket advance advocacy of potential applicants for use permits seems decidedly out of line from an official who gives legal advice to the city on such applications," charged Griffith.

"These comments by Mr. Galligan, Mr. Risso and even by Councilman Maurice Hamilton appear to try to commit us in advance to approval of still another drive-in restaurant.

"I don't see how Mr. Hamilton could assist in finding a new location, and then vote on any later appeal of such site — no more than I can understand how he and the former City Manager got involved in choosing the best location for Fairway Chevrolet: first, as a conflict with their civic obligations; and second, as a splintering of the City Council authority.

Mayor Meets Beauties

Queen Contest Is On

DALY CITY MAYOR Bernard (Bud) Lycett, center, welcomes two pretty candidates in the upcoming Centro Hispano Americano September fiesta beauty queen contest. The girls were chaperoned around the city by Mrs. Maria Luna in their campaign to win the queen contest by selling votes. The ticket money will be used by the organization to "help up help ourselves," according to Mrs. Luna, president of the El Centro of Daly City. Shown with candidates Marica Villarel, left, and Esperansa Flores, right, are: Councilman Frank Pacelli, left, and McRobert Stewart, far right.

Two Youths Arrested

Two youths, one a 17-year-old, were arrested by San Bruno police last Wednesday and charged with possession of dangerous drugs for sale.

Police said the juvenile was released to the custody of his parents. The other, Andres G. Herrera Jr., 18, of 294 Imperial Drive, Pacifica, was arraigned yesterday.

According to police two detectives witnessed the sale in the Pacific Heights Shopping Center of what is believed to be dangerous drugs.

Truck Given St. Vincent For Pickups

The San Mateo County Society of St. Vincent de Paul is the happy recipient of a used five-ton flatbed truck.

Donor was the Transportation Guarantee Co., of 1405 San Mateo Avenue, South San Francisco, a firm which repairs trucks.

H. Max Wegerbauer, manager of the Society's charitable-rehabilitative operation, noted that the gift was particularly welcome and appropriate, since the Society program is basically dependent on trucks to pick up used merchandise donated by the public. Such used, but still useful, merchandise is refurbished in the Society's South San Francisco workshop (manned by handicapped workers undergoing rehabilitation) and then distributed to the needy or sold through the Society Thrift Stores.

The Transportation Guarantee firm has long taken care of the Society's trucks, keeping them in such good repair that they are always available to respond to donor calls.

The Society was also the recipient of another valuable gift recently: a forklift, presented by the Yale Material Handling Division (San Leandro) of Eaton, Yale & Towne Inc.

Soldier Charged In D.C. Robbery

Painstaking detective work by a Daly City policeman resulted in the arrest Wednesday of an AWOL soldier on charges of strongarm robbery .

The arrest of Michael Eitler, alias Michael West, followed a short chase in the San Diego Avenue area of the city about 5:30 p.m. He allegedly robbed a man of his tobacco pounch last February.

At the time of the incident police surmised the robber thought the pouch was actually his victim's wallet.

Detective Bob Sola, through identification by the victim and investigation of the suspect's habit's, was able to track him down to a home at 522 San Diego Avenue.

As police arrived at the address, Eitler fled on foot but was apprehended a short distance away.

Later Wednesday night, police in the vicinity of 522 San Diego Avenue spotted David Moreno, 18, of 137 Valley Street, Daly City leaving the building and arrested him on charges of desertion from the U.S. Army.

Westborough Map Voted

Final map for South San Francisco's Westborough 4A has been approved by the councilmen. They also authorized execution of an agreement for subdivision improvements.

Other approved resolutions granted an easement to the Westborough County Water District, and declared a public service easement for storm drains, public utilities and other public service uses.

Construction Is Approved For D.C.

The County Planning Commission Wednesday approved one rezoning proposal for the Daly City area and rejected another.

Approved was a zoning amendment to permit construction of a Lucky Stores discount center and auxiliary shops on 3.6 acres near Junipero Serra Freeway bounded by San Pedro Avenue, Hill and B streets.

The application of the landowner, Giralamo Bertucci, for the zoning change had the endorsement of the Daly City Office of Planning.

Dropped by the commission was a proposal, deveolped on the commission's own initiative, to rezone three-fourths of an acre on the west side of Hillside Boulevard between Market and Castle streets, and 6.4 acres on the east side of Third Avenue between Market and A streets.

The property is part of a finger of unincorporated land jutting into Daly City.

The rezoning study was initited by the commission in May in connection with a proposed gas station development at Market Street and Hillside Boulevard. It was proposed to eliminate pockets of commercial, industrial and single-family zoning and rezone them for apartments.

Property owner Ricco Lagomarsino convinced the commission, however, that there is no point in rezoning the land at this time because there are no plans for development under present economic conditions.

OK Order In Bruno

A change order totaling $77-,931 for the Cherry Avenue Assessment project in San Bruno has been approved by San Bruno Councilmen.

The change order represents construction items related to widening of the thoroughfare between San Bruno Avenue and Sneath Lane, including grading, grass seeding, sub-drains, manholes, etc.

These were not incorporated in the original project specifications .The cost, however, is not a city cost, but will be assessed to the affected property owners.

Veteran Is Re-Injured In Accident

Three youths were injured — two seriously — when their car smashed into a parked car in the 700 block of Schwerin Street in Daly City Friday.

Admitted to Mary's Help Hospital with a possible crushed chest was James B. Cooper, 19, of 109 Oakridge Drive, Daly City.

His brother, Randy, 16, was treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises and released.

The third victim in the 11:44 p.m. car crash was First Lt. Ronald Leonard, 19, a wounded Vietnam War veteran assigned for treatment to Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio.

Leonard received wounds of the jaw while on duty in Vietnam and was being treated at Letterman at the time of the accident. Police said it appeared Leonard's jaw was re-broken and several teeth knocked out in the accident.

While preparing James Cooper for admittance to Mary's Help, a nurse allegedly discovered some pills and marijuana hidden in his boots.

Shoplifting Is Charged

Three San Francisco youths — including two girls — were arrested at a Daly City supermarket Wednesday on charges ranging from petty shoplifting to auto theft and possession of stolen credit cards .

All three were apprehended at the Mayfair Market on Geneva Avenue shortly before 9 p.m. by employees of the market and held for police

When officer Steve Aurilio arrived he noted the trio was under the influence of drugs.

Arrested and charged with possession of dangerous drugs, possession of marijuana, possession of stolen credit cards, auto theft and shoplifting were Rose Garcia, 19, 41 Brunswick Street, San Francisco, Barbara Clarkie, 19, address unknown, and Micheal Leon, 25, 992 Valencia Street, San Francisco.

SPINACH

The written history of spinach began in China when it was introduced from Nepal in 647. Old records indicate that Moors carried spinach from North Africa to Spain about 1100.

Despondent, Kills Self

Joseph J. Gaunan, 34-year-old butcher of 20 Altura Way, South San Francisco died at 5:15 p.m. yesterday of a self-inflicted shotgun wound sustained a minute after midnight on Saturday.

Coroner Paul B. Jensen said Gaunan shot himself in the left chest while seated in a car in front of 415 Linden Avenue in South San Francisco.

He was taken to Kaiser Hospital for emergency treatment and transferred to Peninsula Hospital for surgery . He was later transferred to County General Hospital where he died.

South San Francisco police said the victim had been arrested on July 22 and charged with "crimes against children." At that time, according to police, he had been taken to County Hospital because he "was despondent over the death of a friend."

THE MARQUEE

The average, serious theater-goer sees "Hamlet" at least 12 times in his lifetime, and no two productions are alike. Some interpretations are deep, dark and morbid; others, as with Kurtwood Smith in the California Shakespeare Festival in Los Gatos, can be taunting, mercurial and logical.

The drastic cut in budget hasn't hampered the outward values of the two play season. Working with $30,000 instead of $145,000 they spent last year, Festival Director Charles Haid has employed strong actors (ten are Equity members) whose versatility and experience serves them well in doubling for a repertory of "Hamlet" and "Merry Wives of Windsor." They perform nightly through August but if you go on a Saturday or Sunday, as I did, you can catch one in a matinee and the other after dinner.

Rex Henriot's staging is commendable on both issues but for the sloppy, unkempt appearances of some of his players, notably Earl Hindman as Claudius and as Ford who is supposed to represent a gentleman of Windsor, not a stringy haired hippie. Having the ghost of Hamlet's father clump out in a tee shirt (Raymond Lynch), with no touch of nobility or dignity is a serious error in judgment, no matter how free of pretentious he meant to make it.

Hindman otherwise had the voice and stage presence to handle the roles with command. Henriot brought period costumes with him from the Syracuse Repertory Theatre and they blended nicely with more modern, non-period streetwear. The only sour note in the prudent, money saving costuming was having Keith Jochim's Horatio in a business suit for the first act and full Elizabethan garb in the death scene.

THERE IS EXCELLENT MYSTERY AND SUSPENSE IN THE TRAGEDY, a straightforward approach that doesn't sentimentalize or titlate with Freudian overtones. Hamlet's scenes with Ophelia and his mother are more on a challenging tone than enigmatic sensuality. It certainly makes the characters more human.

Myshkin Sletteland makes a beautiful Ophelia with her long dark hair and serene countenance. She has a classic profile, a creamy complexion and expressive eyes. When her torment comes to the surface she can break your heart with the pathos of her dilemma. Hers seems more real than Hamlet's since she's torn between filial obedience and an innocent and pure love for the Prince whose spurns and taunts dismay and distract her.

The lovely young actress later turns up as a surprisingly good comedienne as the wheeler-dealer sex broker, Mistress Quickly. Now with a greedy leer, white wig and less graceful movements, she sets the pace for much merriment. Tamara Daniel and Cassia Besson make a bright, giggly duo as Mistress Ford and Page, respectively.

JOCHIM PLAYS THE BOMBASTIC BUFFOON, SIR JOHN FALSTAFF, with good cheer. Lechery is the role's keynote and he gives full rein to the pompous machinations of a portly Don Juan whose abortive attempts to court two married women of wit, make comic sport.

Terry Talley has been given better opportunity to show his talents this year in a return to the Oldtown stage on University Avenue. His Polonius is garrulous, amusing but humorless and doddering. He plays it straight as Shallow in "Merry Wives" and lets Robert Phelps get all the laughs as Slender, an affected, dandyfied simpleton.

Both productions suffer from a mixture of styles and lack smoothness and unity. But the robust, innovative aspects make them pleasurable viewing. George Wyner as Laertes and Dr. Caius, contributes a deftness that marks both plays lively summer entertainment.

S.S.F. Plans $200,000 Bids

Street improvement projects totaling $203,001.66 will be put out to bid by the city of South San Francisco.

Director of Public Works Lou Goss submitted the itemized list of 18 projects to councilmen last week.

Largest on the "1970 Street Improvement Project" is an estimated cost of $37,256.50 for improvement of Baden Avenue from Linden Avenue to Spruce Avenue.

Other major ones include $19,586.50 for Littlefield Avenue from Lawrence Avenue to East Grand Avenue; $16,207 for improvement of Newman Drive from Clay Avenue to Serra Drive; $14,494.75 for Starlite Street from South Canal Street to Spruce Avenue; $12,899 for Eccles Avenue from Rozzi Place to Oyster Point Boulevard; $13,114.89 for improvement of Dubuque Avenue from East Grand Avenue to Oyster Point Boulevard; $12,301 for Francisco Drive, from El Cortez Avenue to Wilms Avenue; and $11,115.10 for Railroad Avenue from Linden Avenue to Spruce Avenue.

The remaining include $8,995.10 for Produce Avenue from San Mateo Avenue to Terminal Court; $8,799.70 for San Felipe Avenue from Serra Drive to Newman Drive; $7,044.75 for Valverde Drive from Velencia Drive to Alta Vista Drive; $8,436 for Camaritas Avenue from Hickey Boulevard to Alta Loma Drive; $6,899.65 for Chestnut Avenue from Parkway School to Hillside Boulevard; $6,714.80 for Ponderosa Road from El Camino Real to Alhambra Road, $6525 for the Airport Boulevard traffic island from Randolph Avenue to Butler Road.

And $6,024.30 for Hammer Way from East Grand Avenue to the Railroad spur track; $5,315.02 for El Campo Drive from Tunitas Lane to Del Monte Avenue; and $1,272.60 for Orange Avenue widening from A Street to El Camino Real.

Route 280 Is 'Scenic'

A bill to make State Highway Route a "scenic highway" throughout San Mateo County has been signed by Governor Reagan and becomes effective within 30 days.

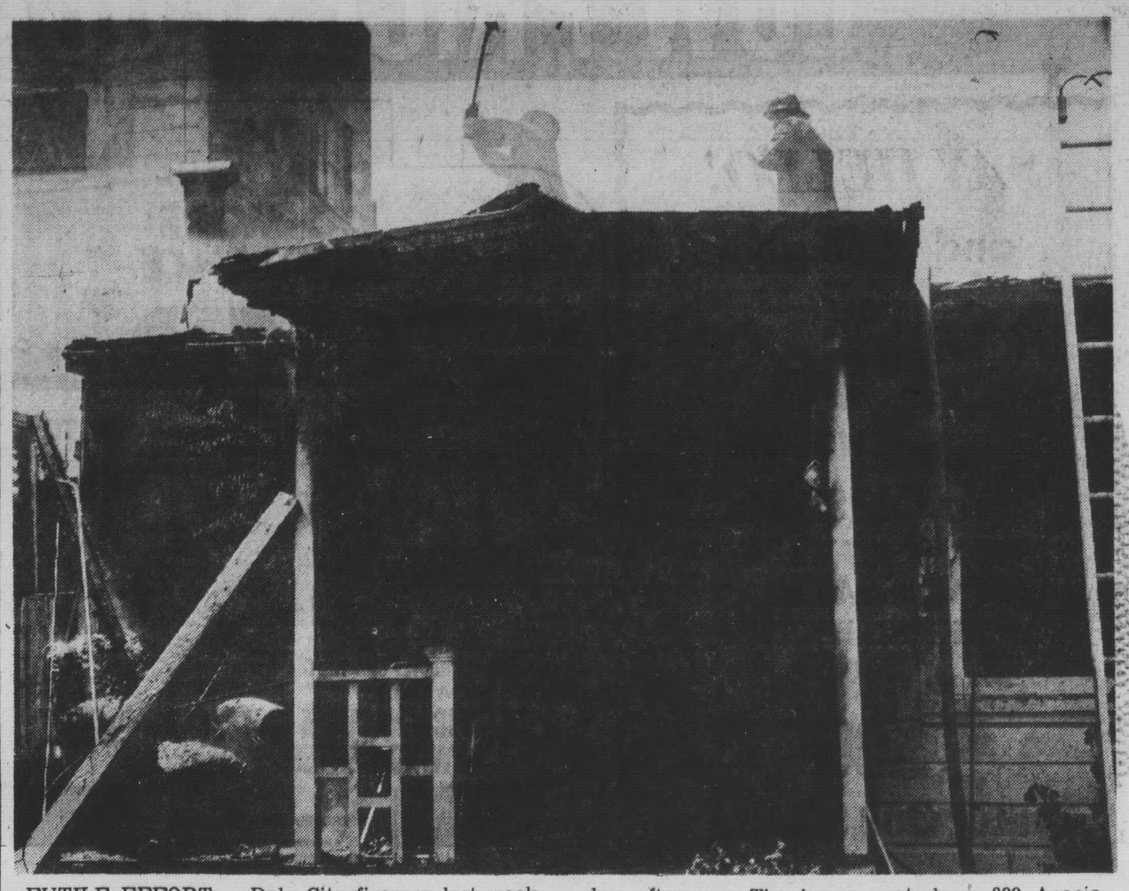
"This assures citizens that this beautiful stretch of highway, a masterpiece of engineering and beautification, will forever be safeguarded from unsightly adjoining development and will be kept free of billboards," Carl A. Britschgi, sponsor of the bill, said today.

Route 280 parallels the old Skyline Boulevard between San Bruno and Ralston Avenue in Belmont, providing spectacluar views of Crystal Springs Lakes and the woodland areas of the watershed.

Yet to be completed, but included in Britschgi's bill is a four-mile stretch between Ralston Avenue, Belmont, and Canada Road, Woodside.

Technically Britschgi's bill takes in all of 280 from Route 17 in Salta Clara County to First Street, San Francisco.

Bonfire Sparks House Fire



FUTILE EFFORT — Daly City firemen last week were unable to do anything to save this house at 384 Acacia Street. It was gutted by a blaze early yesterday afternoon. The house next door, 388 Acacia Street, also sustained some fire damage. Cause of the blaze was blamed on sparks from a bonfire. (Post Photo)

SFS Professor Receives Award

A Daly City resident who is the San Francisco State Director for World Business, Dr. Thomas H. Bates, Associate Professor of World Business, was declared an award by the American Agricultural Economic Association, an international organization, the college announced this week.

Dr. Bates received a Certificate of Merit and a honorarium of $125. It is in recognition of his work of research published by the Giannini Foundation of Agricultural Economics at the University of California.

Girls' Condition Said Critical

A 15-year-old Daly City girl remains in critical condition today in San Francisco General Hospital following a motorcycle accident Monday.

Linda Todd suffered a broken neck, fractured jaw and facial cuts when the motorcycle on which she was a passenger crashed into a house at Nineteenth and Texas streets, San Francisco.

Garden Is Planned

Winners of the Daly City Garden Club "Garden of the Month" award are Mr. and Mrs. William Barry, 433 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

In the two years since this young couple became the owners, they have completely remodeled the back garden which now features a fountain and fish pond.

It was designed and built entirely by Barry, who does all the planning and planting while Mrs. Barry helps with maintaining the garden.

The Barrys have planned their lovely garden for year-round bloom and color beginning with camellias in the winter and going the complete cycle with spring bulbs, rhododendrons, roses, dahlias, annuals and of course a velvety greeen lawn.

Sermon Topic Is Brotherhood

The basis of true brotherhood is explored in the lesson-sermon on "Love" to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Readings from the Bible emphasize "the love of god toward us," with several verses from First John including the following:

"If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?"

One of the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, reads, "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same principle, or father: and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good."

Services are held in Pacifica, San Francisco, and South San Francisco at Churches of Christ, Scientist; the addresses of which may be found in your local Yellow Pages.

Warning: Do Not Eat Mussels

A warning against eating mussels taken from the San Mateo County Coast was issued today by Dr. James M. Bodie of the County Health and Welfare Departments.

They are poisonous, he said.

Samples taken from various Coastside locations revealed these "toxin levels," the health official said:

Martin's Beach (south of Half Moon Bay) — 500 milligrams.

Moss Beach — 870 milligrams.

Pescadero — 1,000 milligrams.

Grey Whale Cove (south of Devil's Slide)— 2,800 milligrams.

"Anything above 80 milligrams is considered highly poisonous," Dr. Bodie said.

As far as is known, the health official said, no one has been exposed to the poisonous shellfish this year. There were a number of mussel poison cases in Marin and Mendocino counties last year but none in San Mateo County, according to Dr. Bodie.

He said the condition is caused by organisms that grow among the mussels as the water warms up each summer.

Named Chairman

Mrs. John Harness of San Bruno has been named chairman of the annual fashion show and luncheon being sponsored by St. Veronica's Women's Club.

Mortgage Of Church To Be Paid Off

After 15 years, a dream is about to be realized at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, 777 Southgate Avenue, in Daly City. Their mortgage indebtedness will be paid off, and a new Vicar, the Reverend Tim S. Tudolph, has been called to serve the church.

Bishop Millard, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Northern California, will attend, as well as Councilman MacRobert Stewart of Daly City, Don Halverson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. Thomas Whelpley, as well as many clergymen from the area.

A "burning of the mortgage" is planned.

YWCA Opens Drive Class

The YWCA joins the safety-on-the-highways seekers with a driver education course open to everyone 15½ and older, both men and women.

The class, which aims at getting the nondriver to the point where he (and she) can safely practice and get ready for obtaining a license, opens with three lectures, followed by five hours of private instruction behind the wheel. The private instruction will be arranged at students' convenience.

Head instructor is James Vivian, executive director of National Driving School. Vivian is a member of the San Francisco chapter of National Safety Council and Better Business Bureau, as well as the Northern American Professional Driver Education Association and the Driving School Association of California.

According to Vivian, more than 55,000 persons were killed in the United States in traffic accidents last year. Since 1900, he says, "there have been more highway deaths here than in all our wars put together. Bad driving is the greatest contributing factor."

Further information about Vivian's YWCA driving course may be obtained by calling 756-7370.

THE POST'S Family Forum

Louanne Heath's Datebook

ROLAND AND MARIE HIGGINS moved to Sierra City several years ago to go into "semi-retirement." They rented a tiny space next to the post office and began stocking the counters of their grocery store. They began selling one part groceries, one part Sierra County tourist information and two parts friendliness.

The results of such a combination are entirely predictable. When the post office moved across the street, into new and very unique quarters, the Higgins's expanded into the vacated space and began selling ice cream cones and giant hamburgers which taste like good ground beef with garnishes. Business picked up considerably, the variety of goods increased and extra help had to be put on during the rush season, which runs from the opening of fishing season through hunting season.

Today the store is bustling. The Higgins's no longer feel "semi-retired." Their work days are long and hard. Lots of changes have transpired in a very few years but one thing hasn't shown any sign of change, the friendly atmosphere is still very much in evidence from the moment you enter the store until Roland Higgins loads your purchases into your car.

One thing they enjoy talking to everyone about is the beautiful country they picked for their "retirement." They have the information "strangers in their paradise" need, whether it is where to go for quartz crystals, which lane to follow to find the farmer who sells the most delectable apples in the state, where to fish for the fattest, firmest trout, or where you are most likely to pan out a gold nugget or two!

When the bug to explore bites us, we ask the Higgins's which road will offer us the best selection of old mines to explore or old dumps in which to rummage. At their suggestion we took the old forty-niner stage route that stretches from the top of Yuba Pass westward to the historic town of Alleghany.

For fantastic vistas, numerous mines and thrilling driving, may I suggest that you try this jaunt some day. We did it in the open back of a pick up truck and for thrills and fun you just can't beat that mode of travel!

We had the high axled vehicle throughly checked and put on board an extra supply of water for this is the type of road you have to approach in top condition. There are no service stations, for that matter, you may not see anyone at all for long strecches of time. The lumber companies are timbering high in the back country and it is entirely possible that the only other vehicle you will see will be a logging truck.

If you are sure of your car and you have food and drink packed, put your worries aside and enjoy this ride.

The road leaves highway 49 at the summit and turns south to the far side of the ridge and then travels westward just below the crest of the mountains. At Jackson Meadow dam you dip downward to the newly developed recreation site and drive along the edge of the huge lake, past the new dam and its predecessor, a crumbling concrete barrier built during the depression days of the 30s. After you leave the old dam the road turns upward and the ruts become deeper and the gorges and steep valleys off to the left become more spectacular with each mile. On one of the narrower stretches we encountered a heavily loaded logging truck and had to back downward into a slightly wider spot where we sat perilously close to the edge and felt the loamy earth giving under our wheels as the truck inched and scraped by us.

The road keeps winding upward and in one spectacular spot we stopped and gazed almost directly across at the tops of the Sierra Buttes on our right and into a deep, thickly wooded valley on the left.

It is a long, hot drive, well worth your time and energy, and, if some day you should feel the call to get way, way, away from civilization, try this route to beauty and history.

KofC Adopts Position Resolution

At the Knights of Columbus state convention recently in Santa Maria, Grand Knight Glen Allen and Past Grand Knight James Haug of Daly City's Marian Council No. 3773 sponsored a resolution in cooperation with the Saint Francis Chapter and with the support of Knights of Columbus State Deputy Francis X. Driscoll.

The resolution was authored by Allen and Haug and passed with the unanimous approval of the delegates to the convention. The authors report they sponsored the resolution "because we as Knights of Columbus can no longer sit back and be considered a part of the silent majority. It is time to take a stand against those individuals who are trying to destroy our democratic way of life and the principles for which this country stands."

The resolution is as follows:

WHEREAS, with the current unrest in our nation's colleges, in our high schools and on our streets, we feel that as Knights of Columbus it is our responsibility to take the lead in condemning such actions as civil disobedience, violence and the harassment of college administrators and our elected officials. We further condemn the burning of the flag of our country or the adoration and display of any Communist flag in this nation, except in consulates of the United Nations.

WHEREAS, if anyone disagrees with the policies of the United States, there are peaceful and legitimate ways to achieve a change through our democratic system.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Knights of Columbus will not be considered a member of the silent majority, but Catholic leaders in a free world.

D.C. Youth Receives Certificate Of Thanks

John Chiosso, age 15, of 935 Foothill Drive, Daly City, has received a Certificate of Appreciation from Save the Children Federation (SCF), internatitnal child welfare organization headquartered in Norwalk, Connecticut, for a contribution to be used towards the Federation's General Self-Help Fund.

The certificate, signed by E. C. Kip Finch, chairman of the Board of Directors, and Glen Leet, executive director of the Federation, expresses thanks for help given to needy children at home and overseas. The purpose of the General Self-Help Fund is to help children, their families and communities overcome the causes of poverty so that the children may be exposed to new opportunities.

Since the Federation is not a relief agency, its aim is to stimulate people living in areas of economic and social deprivation to learn and practice the self-hlep way of progress. This is not the simple matter of a one-time gift, but a special program planned to suit the needs of individual people to grow, to learn about and to try new methods, and eventually master a more productive way of life.

The General Self-Help Fund supports professional counseling for famllies in need; summer work projects and vocational training for young people; small grants for families who need a cow, poultry, or seeds and fertilizer to help them become self-supporting; interest-free loans for parents who need equipment such as a sewing machine, fishing net, power saws, or a fishing boat to raise their income and others.

DC Furniture Man Off To Market Meet

In a world of products allegedly contributing to the pollution problem, home furnishings come away clean, beautifying without befouling invironments.

"New home furnishings designs for fall and winter 1970 have a dramatic and prestigious look. Combinations of new materials—glass, acrylics, shiny metals, clear-finish woods, vinyl and leathers give a freshnes to american traditional as well as modern stylings, "Mr. Lloyd D'Augusta of Westlake Maple Shop said prior to departure for San Francisco's Western Merchandise Mart.

D'Augusta recalled a recent comment by a prominent furniture designer who observed that in a world full of problems, in the home things have never looked better.

"New features appear in American traditional and modern designs, and in every area of home furnishings the choice is wider than ever," Mr. D'Augusta stated.

Over 10,000 buyers are expected to shop some 450 showrooms for furniture, bedding, carpeting, lamps and wall decor during the Western Merchandise Mart's week-long trade event.

IT'S A FACT

By JACK WILSON

ENVIRONMENTAL HANDBOOK

Congressman McCloskey has personally endorsed the Environmental Handbook which is now on our High School recommended reading lists.

Although some 30 nations have agreed upon the "Universal Declaration of Human Rights" which states that the size of a man's family is to be determined by the family itself and not by anyone else, the Environmental Handbook says, "It is painful to have to deny the validity of this RIGHT". (Pages 41-42). On page 317 it goes on to say that to "stabilize" the U. S. population, among other things, they suggest "annual bonuses for couples remaining childless."

The book suggests that we consider forming ten regional prefectures, perhaps, to replace the 50 states. It suggests that as the balance of terror becomes unstable that we consider giving up our national flag and perhaps sacrifice some of our hard-won liberties. Under the title "Human Ecology" they question whether "the States can be brought to life. (Page 145.)

I am opposed to this line of reasoning and will work toward the preservation of our Country as it stands.

Frank LaPierre

Post-Times Writer

MRS. ANGELA VIDAL wanted desparately to live to be 100 years old. She told everyone she would reach the hundred year mark. Friday she blew out the 100 candles on her cake. Saturday she died.

THAT PICTURE IN THE POST, you know the one in the rear of a station wagon that joked: "Do you like Daly City Cops? Why not take one to lunch?" Well, Mel Lichtman of Shakey's Pizza Parlor in Daly City took up the sign and is now making arrangements to feed all the officers either separately or all together. Why? "Because I happen to like cops," Mel says.

SAN BRUNO FIRE CHIEF Herb Freitas requested the Chamber of Commerce inform businesses within the city that a group called "The Firefighters Association" is working the North County and is not sponsored by firemen. "Be on guard," cautions the chief.

AS PART OF THE San Bruno police settlement with the city in recent wage and fringe negotiations, one item the city's finest did receive was a city-paid-for jump suit — all blue, thank you. Whenever the force is called upon for mutual aid, henceforth, they will don the coveralls pack up their Mace and move out. Asked why a jump suit was needed, did they intend to leap out of airplanes? "Nope, it's for jumping on militants" said one coverall-covered cop I just knew they had an answer.

NOBODY'S TRYING to break away from the Democratic process, least of all this (poor and humble but proud) columnist. And so we've promised Joe (he's the fellow with the moustache over at Westlake Liquors in D.C. that the "Moustache Matter" would be put to a vote of the viewing public. Some folks say it's horrible, while others think his moustache is great. Frankly, I couldn't care less. It's simply that I haven't anything else to write during this summer vacation period.

WHO'S AFRAID of the Big Bad Press. Not Assemblyman Leo Ryan. No siree. He's downright upset about that (Robert) Monagan proposal that would require the Legislature to open up a few more meetings to the press and public. Bad scene as far as Assemblyman Ryan is concerned. And to quote the South City representative "I feel very strongly about this particular point . . . I'll take the heat in the press and vote no on this."

THE PUBLIC OUTCRY is rising over that stretch of beach between Daly City and Pacifica or, more specifically the dirt that touches the water from Skyline Drive to Palmetto Drive. Seems folks are using it as a dumping ground for everything from leaves to beer cans and William Malcahy of Daly City, for one, wants to know what kind of a legacy we adults will be leaving behind. He thinks it might be good dollars and sense to employ some summer youth during the summer to clean up the beach. Great idea! Who's gonna pay 'em?

SAN BRUNO COUNCILMAN Ted Long (upper right) carries a bundle of newsprint from the offices of The Times and Post. The paper drive went so well it is anticipated to become a bi-monthly and possibly even monthly effort. Even little girls volunteered their services (upper left) to carry bags, sometimes seemingly heavier than they are, full of old newspapers to be recycled. Some 500 people took part in the ecology effort. Stack upon stack of newsprint (below) filled two main collection points to overflowing and accounted for close to 50 tons of paper. Eight pickup trucks used over an eight-hour period accomplished the newsprint collection this past Saturday. (Post Photos)

Post-Times Columnist

Anyone Can Do It

What right do the people possess when the powers of a duly constituted government are improperly executed?

This question has plagued philosophers, public men and people for centuries. In most cases, the answer has come after the fact, with an angry citizenry throwing the bum out, in an earlier day or in other countries by coup or force of arms, and in modern democracies, by defeat at the polls.

In the American experience, an effort was made to limit power before the fact of abuse. By creating a layered government of competing components, and through elaborate checks and balances, our founders tried to place serious and practical limits on power.

But even this sophisticated and thorough system must, of necessity, place great authority in one individual. The Presidents plenary and constitutional powers are such that he can not only influence but create and, in degree, carry out national policy, especially in foreign affairs and in waging of wars. In addition, practical necessities of world environment require extensive personal Presidential power.

Once the reality of such power is acknowledged, the search for limitations begins. Is the President, subject only to constitutional checks and balances, election every four years, and the possibility of impeachment, free to act as he pleases? The answer is in the negative. For there are checks that rest in the general nature of power, people and politics. To understand them, one must reach beyond constittional doctrine and consider the general nature of leadership.

Niccolo Machiavelli considered such limitations in 'The Prince," written in the early 16th century. Machiavelli's treatise is an advisory tract addressed to Princes whose authority was absolute and who were free to resort to force of arms and methods of tyranny. Much of Machiavelli's advice relates to force: The blood of the old rules must "be extinct," "Fortune is a woman and it is necessary to conquer her by force," "Men must be either caressed or annihilated."

Nonetheless, this advocate of power recognized the need of popular support. "Therefore the best fortress is to be found in the love of the people.' In fact, a great deal of "The Prince" is devoted to politics, and Machiavelli's suggestions have a tone of timelessness, that suggest immutable limitation on authority that apply as a practical matter to modern Presidents, as well as to Monarchs.

"Well-ordered States and wise Princes have studied diligently not to drive the nobles to desperation and to satisfy the populace and keep it contented, for this is one of the most important matters a Prince has to deal with."

"Machiavelli would have been fascinated by the extent and fragile nature of Presidential power. He wrote, ". . . The kingdoms known to history have been governed in two ways: either by a Prince and his servants, who, as ministers by his grace and permission, assist in governing the realm: or by a Prince and by barons who hold their positions not by favor of the ruler . . .".

The Presidency is a unique institution. On a personal basis, its major attribute must be its loneliness. For unlike any 16th century prince, the President is a creature of the people. His office, and that of the Vice President, are the only ones elected on a national basis. Machiavelli would hasten to point out that he is surrounded by "barons" and not "servants." Governors, senators, congressmen, state legislators, educators, industrialists, and other, all have separate bases of support. Such persons bear a sibling relationship to others who are similarly situated. The President has none — he is alone.

True enough, the President has "servants" in that staff, cabinet officers and others are directly responsible to his will. But as we have so often seen, many of these often function as "barons," not "servants."

Thus, a modern President is surrounded by two hundred million who look to his leadership but have, as free men, the right to follow that leadership or not, as they please to do from time to time.

History tells us that more than one President has found it impossible to lead. Andrew Johnson, Woodrow Wilson (even before his illness), and Herbert Hoover all experienced serious periods of Presidential malaise. Lyndon Johnson wallowed through months of ineffectiveness. All Presidents experience seasonal waning of support and correlative loss of authority.

Any modern man who succeeds in struggling to this pinnacle responds to popularity and seeks to preserve his ability to lead. The essence of that leadership is founded on widespread support of policies and of the individual. Contemplation of its collapse must occupy only the darkest and gloomiest moments of Presidential reverie and constitutes the best check on Presidential power.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY

Better Business Bureau

It has been estimated that the names of two out of every three adults in the United States appear on a mailing list — possibly a dozen.

Mailing lists are compiled from birth announcements; schools have been known to sell graduation lists to compilers.

A person automatically goes on a mailing list when his name is listed in a phone directory.

Automobile registrations, in some states, are regularly provided to list assemblers. Owners of lists in one category sell them to companies in similar fields.

The United States Government agencies are the biggest suppliers of mailing lists for unsolicited mail.

These agencies contend that they are duty-bound to furnish the lists under the terms of Freedom of Information Act, a law passed by Congress to insure openness in government operations.

The Firearms Control Assistance Act, a law enacted after the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King, requires gun dealers to obtain licenses from the United States Government through the Internal Revenue Services.

An investigation revealed that the Internal Revenue sold computer-printer rolls of mailing labels compiled from lists of gun collectors and dealers.

Some one hundred forty thousand names and addresses of licensed gun dealers and collectors were sold for approximately one-tenth of a cent per name.

The sale of mailing lists of gun collectors has been halted but lists of gun dealers are still sold.

The list of Coast Guard boat registrations are for sale. The Federal Aviation Administration sells its computer-tape lists of names and addresses of licensed pilots.

The consumer is rebelling against having his letterbox stuffed with junk mail.

I have formed a habit of sitting by my wastepaper basket when I open my daily mail.

In spite of the consumer's annoyance against such so-called junk mail, thousands of legitimate firms are involved in mail order advertising and billions of dollars of goods are sold through legitimate mail advertising.

Also, the tremendous amount of so-called junk mail helps greatly with the costs of delivering all United States mail.

The fact remains that a great deal of the unsolicited mail contains phony offers and schemes. The amount of pornographic material sent through the mail is of grave concern to the concerned consumer.

A new Supreme Court ruling indicates that it plans to extend the 1967 law, which gave the right to have one's name deleted from mailing lists sending out sex books, magazines, etc., to cover all unsolicited mail, regardless of content.

The Post gives its columnists a great deal of latitude, offering its readers the benefit of knowledgeable, varying opinion. Their opinions are not necessarily those of The Post, which addresses itself to its readers only through clearly marked editorials.

San Bruno Newspaper Drive May Be A Regular Event

Looks like that San Bruno paper drive will become a regular bi-monthly, or even monthly, effort to aid in recycling old newsprint and at the same time aid non-profit organizations participating in the collection.

Councilman Ted Long said the Saturday drive, billed as first of a (possible) series (if it was a success) "went very well."

According to the ecology-minded councilman, Saturday's efforts netted close to 50 tons of newsprint. More than 500 persons took part in the drive, using eight pickup trucks and taking more than eight hours to complete. Two main collection depots were completely filled.

"It looks like it will be a regular bi-monthly or monthly afffair," said Long.

The San Bruno Scavenger Company, in connection with its contribution to the collection, issued a statement reaffirming its interest in ecology and the environment.

"We want to continue to participate in the city-wide newspaper drive to save land, recycle newspapers and raise funds for non-profit organizations," said Carlo Magoria, secretary of the firm. "We will donate all newspapers our trucks collect to such efforts."

Magoria said his company is actively investigating means to solve the future refuse dilemma. As a county delegate to the Northern California Refuse Removal Council, the firm is a strong advocate for the incineration process, according to Magoria.

"Some people see us as the bad guys and that is unfortunate," he said. "The environmental problems we are beginning to face should not be viewed in this negative fashion. We are concerned about the community, too."

Chief's Corner

Attacks On Women Rise

Attacks on lone women on the street particularly in the larger cities, are on the increase.

Lone females confronted by a thief or an attacker have very few alternatives. The best defense against an attacker is a loud scream.

Confronted by this, the attacker may retreat, at which time the female should flee in the direction of an open business establishment, lighted home or other people.

Unable to obtain results through this means, the use of physical violence is necessary. The female should claw the face of her attacker with her long fingernails, bite him if possible and kick him in vulnerable areas.

Finally, the use of ready made weapons found in a purse may be resorted to. Hair spray or spray perfume directed into the eyes of an attacker will stun him long enough for a female to flee.

Other devices usually available to a female are nail files, pens, pencils, etc., which should be thrust into the attacker's face or body.

Any or all of these means may and should be resorted to by an attacked female. If at all possible, obtain a good look at the attacker and relate the information to the police department as soon as possible.

"How do I make a complaint against a San Bruno police officer?"

Contact the department and indicate you have a complaint to lodge against an officer. The watch sergeant will be contacted and will record your complaint by obtaining your name, address and phone number. He will not attempt to obtain pertinent information but will advise you of the full details of the complaint procedure and will then refer the complaint directly to the Chief of Police or the Captain.

A preliminary contact will be made with the complaining party, gathering sufficient information to determine if a full investigation is warranted. The investigation is then referred to the Captain who will perform a complete and objective investigation and forward a report to the Chief of Police.

The allegation is either sustained by evidence or not so sustained. If the allegation is sustained, the appropriate disciplinary action will be taken with the responsible officer. In either event the complainant will be recontacted and advised of the investigation.

If the complaining party is not satisfied by the results of the investigation, other avenues of redress are available including contact with the City Manager, City Council, District Attorney or even private legal counsel.

BURGLARY ALERT — MONTE VERDE, ROLLINGWOOD AREAS — Witnesses have observed a black and white 1961 Chevrolet convertible driven by a white male and having a female passenger around the scene of late afternoon and early evening residential burglaries. Questions about the San Bruno Police Department's operations and procedures as well as any questions related to crime may be answered by writing to Chief Russell J. Cunningham, Civic Center, San Bruno, 94066. Questions and answers will appear in future columns.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Post:

Speaking of budget slashing and cutting, approximately a year ago, I was in attendance at a South San Francisco Council study session with some neighbors, Chief Marchi, Captain Fox and others.

To my surprise, the Council went into Chambers, instead of the Conference Room, where we were all gathered and had Chief Marchi called into Chambers.

Being curious and concerned citizens, whether we were invited or not made no difference, three of us followed the Chief to what may have been earmarked by the Council for a private meeting.

Subject of the ensuing discussion was the plans for the Westborough Fire Station; cuts and changes were made over the strong objections of the expert —Chief Marchi.

One thing that stands out in my mind was the way an electric hose dryer was forced on the Chief, who deemed it unacceptable by proof of prior use experience by the Department, not recommended by the Board of Underwriters, costly, in that it must be run electrically for long hours on end, and that it cut the life of fire hoses (about one-half).

Despite all of this, the more practical and Board of Underwriters recommended drill and drying tower was deleted and replaced by this expensive piece of machinery. Installed it was and those of us who attended the new station dedication, were shown this drying "oven."

Point of my story is that now, with just barely over three months of use, this beautiful monster seems to be inoperative.

I am, along with two others, a witness, Chief, to your parting remark to Council, "I am on record that I will not be responsible for deficiency points lost by this decision on the next Underwriters' Survey."

This survey, which guides your fire insurance rates, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, has recently been completed; if deficiency points for this were given, I do not know, but it is just another example of the Council seemingly cutting off their noses to spite their faces.

Editor, The Post:

I just read where a resident in Westlake constructed a concrete fence not to the liking of The Westlake Improvement Association.

This was done after no results were received through complaints to police. What else is there to do?

Did the association come forth with a solution?

He went before the council and was told it would affect the value of the property, and then the council passed it back to the police.

Still no solution to problem.

Now, as far as appearance affecting the value of a home, how about the house trailers parked in front of, in the driveways of, and right on the front lawns of homes?

Doesn't this have an effect on the value of the neighbor's home also? Nothing is done aboat this either, so why any discussion about a fence a person puts up to protect his property?

He is trying to keep the value up. No property owner wants to lower the value of his property.

The police department shifts responsibility for unleashed dogs to the SPCA. The SPCA back to the police.

We have chickens in our neighborhood which are against the city and county health ordinance. The police say its the Sanitation Department's job. The Department of Sanitation says the local police should handle it. We still have unleashed dogs and illegal chickens.

I say if there are laws — enforce them. Excuses, and passing the buck does no one any good.

A Lonely Job

Foster Homes Needed

Foster care has historically been viewed with suspicion and some people unfamiliar with the program assume large sums of welfare money goes to payment of foster homes, Warren Spencer said this week.

Spencer, Foster Home Unit Supervisor for the San Mateo County Department of Public Health & Welfare noted that there is an increasing need for foster homes throughout the Bay Area and the North County has a large concentration of suitable homes.

The monthly board rate is usually only enough to cover basic needs.

"This is a group of people, however, who give deeply of themselves," Spencer said. "Many feel they are doing something concrete about a troubled society. If one child has a little better chance, great satisfaction is achieved."

"Although foster parents are rarely given the kind of credit they deserve, we are still recruiting and hoping more people will come forward," he said.

In the North County area there are several groups that lend support to one another.

"Foster parenting can be difficult but joyous when troubled children respond to care," Spencer pointed out.

A license is required and requirements will be explained by calling Spencer at 341-1361, ext. 2601. Meetings and appointments are available in the North County area.

Some Opinions On Athletes Being Exploited

Athletes are being exploited,
Now is that theory really sound?
Or could it possibly be
It's the other way around?

We offer here some opinions
Of what it's all about,
You can form your own conclusion,
If it can be figured out.

Sam Goldman, dynamic head of the journalism department and Public Information Director at Skyline College, has been a keen observer of the sports world since his undergraduate days at San Jose State and on through his experiences as a sports correspondent for the major wire services and Bay Area dailies and during his better than a dozen years as Sports Information Director at San Francisco State.

Sam, then, has seen it from all angles and at all levels (he was a high school teacher for 11 years at San Francisco's Galileo and Crestmoor in San Bruno, the latter which he left last year to assume his position at Skyline), both in and out of the State of California. He is and has been both a stern critic and staunch supporter of athletics, and when he chooses to expound on a subject it's always interesting.

In the next two columns, Sam takes on Jack Scott directly and Harry Edwards indirectly. Edwards, we're sure, needs no introduction for sports fans, but perhaps before we begin Sam's text, a brief resume of Scott's background would be appropriate.

SCOTT IS FAST becoming a national celebrity — is about, perhaps, to overtake Edwards as the savant of simon pure, idealistic, utopian athletic world — as the result of the full treatment of Life. Scott began making higher waves in the vast and already stormy sea of athletics last spring at Berkeley when he taught an experimental course, dealing generally with the "slave" status of athletes on campus and in the professional field, entitled, Education 191-D: Intercollegiate Athletics and Education, a Socio-Psychological Evaluation.

Scott was spectacular. He began classes by blowing a whistle hung casually around his neck and had famous guest speakers, such as Edwards, former Olympic track star Olga Connolly, and since retired St. Louis Cardinal linebacker Dave Meggyesy. He drew SRO crowds, including some Cal football players.

His class (he was officially designated a "teaching colleague," which carries no salary, and worked under the aegis of Associate Professor John G. Hurst) was inspired by a book he had written, "Athletics for the Athlete," which in turn had been inspired by his experiences as a sprinter at Syracuse University and Stanford, the lat er institution at which his athletic career ended after two meets because of a leg injury.

LE PACINI

A Ph.D. candidate in Eugenics (a science dealing with the production or treatment of a healthy race), the 27-year-old Scott condemned "commercialization" of sports and attacked the average coach, depicting him almost as an inhuman monster. He called for coaches to be teachers, not slave-masters of winning machines. He said that they should teach self-reliance, not blind obedience. He espoused sports as activities which should be purely fun and, "not just to enhance the reputation of a coach or an institution," or to put money into the pockets of greedy owners of professional teams.

And he said, and we believe quite sincerely, that his course was offered with love of sport, real sport, but that his aim was to expose the broken promises to black athletes and other exploited athletes.

NOW, GOLDMAN'S COMMENTS:

"A lot of people like Scott and Edwards claim that athletes go to school just to play sports and that they waste their time educationally. They say the education institutions misuse the athlete by bleeding him for the revenue he can bring in, but not compensating him with a decent education.

"They are right in many respects. The incidents they can point out are valid. But those are relatively rare instances. When you consider the thousands of colleges throughout the country who graduate athletes; who produce athletes that do not go into professional sports; who graduate athletes who were not misused by their coaches and who fit into society, well, you have to question Scott's thesis.

"Scott and his ilk select a few exceptions and present them as a generality which just isn't true.

"One of Scott's big arguments is that only a few profit by participating in sports, but that's not true. Look at all the other people around the sports, not just the athlete, who profit by sports. And I'm not speaking just of moentary profit. I'm speaking, for instance, of the joy so many people get from viewing sports. I'm speaking of the release from tensions — which is so important in a world living with the bomb — that sports provide society.

"Scott says that the individual loses his identify when he participates in a team sport, but what about the factor of the enjoyment of team identity, group participation, the satisfaction of helping many to win or to lose graciously?

"And sports provide both for the people who have this need to work together, and for the individual. As Scott knows, there are team sports and there are individual sports.

"What greater element is there in our society for the provision of tolerance than sports? One of the things that sociologists are saying right now is that the major flaw in the younger generation is that they don't know how to look at themselves with a sense of humor. That doesn't necessarily mean humor per se, it doesn't mean that you go around laughing at yourself all day, but it means the human touch. Many younger people today are not willing to accept the frailities and inadequacies of the human being, and that's one of the things that sports teach so well. Sports key in on the individual's assets as a human being, but they also teach you to recognize your weaknesses and to minimize them. So if you're a long distance runner — born with stamina but not speed — you don't run dashes. If you're 250 pounds, the chances are you'll be a lineman rather than a running back. If you're seven feet tall, you're not going to be a back court man, you'll play center.

"I think that Scott, in his generalities of the negative aspects of athletics, doesn't seem to realize that most coaches are attempting to bring out the assets of a person and reduce the weaknesses.

"I think that there's another aspect of sports that he and Edwards have ignored, and that is that historically, it's well known that athletics, physical education, have been one of the prime avenues for avoidance of juvenile delinquency.

"Guys like Scott and Edwards may denounce the professionalism that's in amateur athletics, and the professional athlete may denounce his sport as an exploiting enterprise, but not many of these men can deny the fact that athletics provided them an outlet that conceivably kept them off the other side of the tracks.

"Oh, I know the black man's argument. Why should he only be given the opportunity to make it in music and athletics? Why shouldn't he be given the chance to make it as an architect or a city planner or an electrical engineer, or what have you. I agree that they should be given all of those chances, and I think it's a shame their choices have been so narrowed. But on the other hand, unlike in some countries where no one is given a choice, they have had a few choices, and they'll get more. But in the meantime, there's nothing shameful about being a great athlete, making a lot of money, being idolized by kids, and, yes, even adults. In other words to use an old but apt cliche, why bite the hand that feeds you? You know, for a long time the Jews could only lend money, and in this country the Chinese could only work on railroads and the Irish could only be cops or laborers and the Italians could only be vegetable gardeners or garbage men. We've all been fit into stereotypes at one time or another, and we've all fought free of them."

(Next week. Goldman discusses the bright future of sports in this country and how amateur and professional sports can live profitably and ethically together.)

Franklin Canyon Course Opens New Clubhouse

Finishing touches were being put on the new Franklin Canyon Golf Course clubhouse on Highway Four near Martinez today and the facility should be open for daily business "very soon," PGA pro Pat Markovich announced this week.

Markovich, brother of Chamber of Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce manager Pete Markovich, explained the new clubhouse will have, in addition to a well-stocked pro shop, facilities for banquets, a main dining room, bar and lounge, lockers and an outside deck "for just relaxing and watching the golfers."

Franklin Canyon is a relatively new 18-hole, 6,623-yard championship course (rated 70) nestled between grassy rolling hills and interlaced with a deep canyon.

It features breaking greens and several water hazards and is considered to be one of the most challenging courses in the Bay Area.

Markovich, a longtime resident of Daly City and part owner of the course, said the building was designed to blend in with the surrounding countryside and to "give players a country club atmosphere at a reasonable daily rate."

The rustic structure was constructed in a way which will allow for future expansion as player volume increases.

One of the features is a "sunken bar" which permits patrons to relax in easy chairs and look out over the first fairway (a tough par five), putting green and driving range.

The outside deck allows a sweeping view of the tenth and eighteenth fairways and a small lake.

Assisting Markovich in the operation will be teaching assistant Tim Stethem, formerly with the San Ramon National Golf Course; Joe Lavezzi, Ron Rinaldi and Skip Tucker.

Mrs. Vesta Williamson, who was associated with Franklin when it was first opened, has rejoined the office staff and will handle tournament bookings, reservations and special events, Markovich said.

Complete operation will be handled by General Manager Frank MacHugh.

OUR LADY OF MERCY SCHOOL
Peg Davenport

Last week at Our Lady of Mercy School, things were a little quiet since many of our daily particpants were away on vacation. This, however, does not mean the playground was at all dull. With more people signing up, the competition will be quite tough when the tournament begins. Mike Long was last week's playground leader of the week with Mark Atwood getting the honor the week before. Just a note for the younger kids — Mrs. Ruch is a volunteer worker from San Francisco State College and has set up an active schedule for all younger people. All children are urged to come down and take part in these activities.

Our Hobo Day events last Friday were so well liked, that we will have a repeat performance this Friday, with a "Monster" theme instead! The Best Hobo awards were given to John Dentoni, Carla Smith, and Lisa Goodman. Michele Albright and Clay Younger won 2nd place awards in that category.

The littlest hobo's were Michael and Leslie McDonald, and Mark Goodman. Ron Sylvia was the biggest hobo! The funniest looking hobo was Robin Horton, and Janice McDonald was the richest looking. Steve Sylvia was the most patches. Following our Bar-B-Que and marshmallow roast, we had a vigorous automobile relay race.

The winners were Michele Albright, Clay Younger, Carla Smith and Russ Swimmer. Winners of the 3-legged race were Ron Sylvia and Steve De Martini, Gary Horton and George Disperati. Our best egg tossers this time were Michele Albright and Deni Bernard, Carla Smith and Dorian Garibaldi. Our biggest watermelon eaters were proven to be Michele Albright, Carla Smith and Ron Sylvia, as they won.

The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place awards in the watermelon eating contest. Good citizens of the week were Michele Albright and Clay Younger.

Recreation Activity San Bruno Reports

San Bruno Recreation Department again sponsored, the annual Hula Hoop and Frisbie contest for all boys and girls living in San Bruno.

This year's contest was conducted at each neighborhood playground.

On Thursday each first place winner from the playgrounds will be brought together at City Park to determine the City Champions.

Awards will be given to each runner up and plaques presented to the champions.

Some of the tricks which are required of the Frisbie contestants are: straight flight, right curve flight, left curve, skip flight, distance flight, straight catch, side arm straight flight and novelty catch.

The Hula Hoop participants will be expected to perform the knee knocker, the stork, hula hop, alley opp, wrap the mummy and the free style.

Under the guidance of Recreation Leader Stan DeLuca children in San Bruno have been actively involved in tennis lessons for the past few weeks.

Tennis classes are being offered for beginners, intermediates and advanced players. Session III will be held through August 7, 1970.

Batons wwere flying high and wide last week in San Bruno as members of Recreation Leader Becky Heuton's class practiced during one of their morning sessions.

The class is being held at the San Bruno Recreation Center at City Park. All girls interested in this activity should contact the Recreation Department at 583-5295. Miss Heuton will be beginning another session on August 10.

Registration for the class will be taken August 3 through August 7, 1970.

On July 4, San Bruno Recreation Department's Summer Playground Session went on a fun filled excursion to Coyote Point.

Fifty San Bruno youths started their day with a tour through the Junior Museum where specimens of many different animals from the San Mateo area were found. This learning experience was followed by a picnic lunch which included a watermelon eating contest.

The rest of the day was devoted to exploring the "faces" of Coyote Point, from the harbor to the beach area, through isolated coveds and tree-lined cliffs.

Children and parents alike eagerly awaited the doors of the San Bruno swimming pool to open last week as temperatures rose to the eighty degrees.

With swimming instruction being offered in the morning hours, several of the youngsters waited until one o'clock to enter the Recreation Swim session.

The Recreation Swim sessions have been established so that children and adults can swim at their own leisure at both the San Bruno City pool and at Crestmoor High Schoolpool between 1 and 3 p.m. Instructional classes are being conducted in two week sessions.

Further information regarding the swimming program can be obtained by contacting the San Bruno Recreation Department at 583-5295.

Wife Tells Of Drinking Bouts

Ernest (Doc) Holbrook of Pacifica is scheduled to take the witness stand in his own defense when his murder trial resumed Monday before a jury of six men and six women in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Louis B. Dematteis.

At his first witness when the defense opened Friday attorney Nathan Cohn called Holbrook's wife, Margaret, to the stand. She testified that her husband on occasion had mental blackouts of events during drinking bouts and that he was drunk last December 23 when he came home to get his gun.

It is alleged that Holbrook, 22, got in an argument with 17-year-old Jose Fernando Vega of San Bruno over a pool game at the Bunny Stop in Pacifica, went home for his gun, a .25-caliber automatic pistol, returned and shot and killed the youth.

Cohn told the jury earlier that Holbrook was too drunk to premeditate the killing and thus should not be convicted of first-degree murder.

At the conclusion of the state's case Friday Cohn made a motion that the murder charge be dismissed on the basis that Deputy District Attorney John O'Leary had failed to present an adequate case. Cohn asked that the case be submitted to the jury on a manslaughter charge. The motion was denied by Judge Dematteis, who ordered the trial to proceed on the murder count.

Among the prosecution witnesses was James J. Kyne of 543 Vista Mar, Pacifica, who said he is employed as a special police officer in San Francico. Kyne said he was seated at the bar at the Bunny Stop at the time of the shooting.

Just before the shot was fired, the witness testified, he saw Vega advancing on Holbrook, trying to hit him with his fists.

"He (Holbrook) was backing up while Mr. Vega was swinging," Kyne said.

Kyne told the jury he did not see the gun in Holbrook's hand until it flashed when the shot was fired.

Car Salesman Robbed By Two Youths

A San Carlos automobile salesman went for an unscheduled ride yesterday with two prospective customers who robbed him, dumped him off in Palo Alto and departed with the car they were trying out.

One youth later was arrested in San Carlos and a second was apprehended driving the missing car in San Francisco.

It all started about 1:15 p.m. when two young men entered the Village Lincoln-Mercury agency in the 300 block of El Camino Real and asked to try out a 1969 model Mark III Continental.

Salesman George O. Homer, 30, said all right, but that he would have to accompany them on the test drive.

He later reported to police that the two youths later refused to return to the agency and started down Bayshore Freeway, with one sitting in the back seat pulling a pistol and demanding Homer's money. All the salesman had in his possession was 85 cents, which the suspects took, returning his empty wallet.

Homer was dumped off in Palo Alto and promptly notified police, who informed San Carlos authorities.

About 3 p.m., Blease Brown, 18, of San Francisco, was discovered sleeping in a parked car near the automobile agency. After officers checked, they determined that he was wanted on traffic warrants. They were in the process of booking him when the report came in concerning the missing car, and Brown subsequently was charged with kidnaping, robbery, conspiracy, possession of stolen property and auto theft. He was lodged in county jail.

Brush Fire Threatens Coast Homes

A brush fire fanned by stiff winds swept over a 20-acre area of Malagra Canyon in Pacifica Wednesday and for a while threatened several homes on Lockhaven Drive.

The first call of a fire in the canyon came into fire department headquarters about 1:50 p.m., an official said.

Firemen no sooner extinguished this blaze when another was spotted at the deep end of the brush-filled canyon.

A third fire broke out in an adjacent section of the canyon as firemen began mopping up operations on the second — and biggest — blaze of the afternoon.

A spokesman said all three fires were "definitely arson."

It was the ninth fire in the area since the first of July.

Smoke poured over homes in the area for several hours as firefighters battled the stubborn blaze up and down the canyon from 2 p.m. until shortly before 8 p.m.

Fire came within 15 feet of some homes along Lockhaven Drive, according to firemen.

Japanese Waste Plan Doesn't Work

Japan has nothing to offer when it comes to efficient solid waste disposal.

This was the message Leonard Stefanelli, president of the Sunset Scavenger Company, San Francisco, had for members of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

Stefanelli cited specifically the often highly praised Japanese system of making building blocks from solid waste.

Using slides he had a tour of the Japanese facility to illustrate his talk at the International Inn, he said "Everybody works, but there is a total lack of efficiency as far as standards we set here in the United States are concerned, when it comes to garbage."

Stefanelli admitted the machinery used to compact the garbage "was very impressive," but the result "was a real big joke."

The theory, according to Stefanelli, is that the bale of solid waste, once dipped in an asphalt solution, will become a useable building block.

It is supposedly completely sealed and odor free. "But it is not sealed," said Stefanelli, pointing to the color slide before him. "You can see the holes that contain bacteria and wide open refuse."

Stefanelli noted the process to create the block and including a sewage treatment plant, was costing $12 a ton," and they still haven't got rid of the garbage."

He said a similar operation in the United States would cost upwards of $20 a ton.

Stefanelli stressed that the San Francisco Bay Area has the best solid waste disposal available. He said it will improve because the people are willing to pay more for a better environment. "This Japanese operation has no practical purpose," said Stefanelli.

"Psychologically, the public is not ready for incineration," claimed Stefanelli, going on to plug his firm's new waste disposal transfer station being built at Sierra Point. "If you burn, you have to pollute. But it will come," he said.

The $2 million transfer station, according to Stefanelli, "will be the thing of the future. It will be completely enclosed, computerized and able to handle 2,500 tons of waste a day with a possible increase of up to 5,000 tons a day," he said.

NELL NORTON
Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

"Half a loaf is better than none." Not a very original lead I'll admit, but it does lead into my thoughts about the advisability of baking half a cake for a small family. Too often a large, two layer cake will dry out and go to waste before it can be eaten. So why not avoid this by making smaller cakes?

The makers of cake mixes are well aware that small cakes are good business. And the market shelves hold many interesting varieties.

However if you like to make a cake from scratch you might find these cakes interesting to try. Interesting to try and delicious to eat.

This first recipe makes a dark, delicious and delectable cake. Plus the fact it's very easy to mix and fix. I'll include a recipe for icing, but we found the cake just right with powdered sugar dusted over the top.

DATE AND NUT CAKE

6½ ounce package dates, finely cut (about 1¼ cups)
1 cup hot water
¼ cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup nuts, chopped

(Bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes)

Pour the cup of hot water over one and one-fourth cups chopped dates. Set aside to cool.

In a mixing bowl combine the fourth cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg and one teaspoon vanilla. Beat five minutes at high speed on mixer or by hand until fluffy (5 minutes total beating time).

Sift together the one and three-fourths cups flour, one teaspoon soda and half teaspoon salt. On low speed add alternately to creamed ingredients in four additions with date mixture. (Begin and end with dry ingredients.) Blend just until smooth. Add the half cup nuts.

Pour into 9x9x2-inch greased and floured pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes.

EASY PENUCHE ICING

¼ cup butter
½ cup brown sugar, packed
2 Tablespoons milk
About one cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Melt the fourth cup butter in saucepan. Add the half cup brown sugar. Boil over low heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in the two tablespoons milk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Gradually add the cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat until thick enough to spread. If icing becomes too stiff, add a little hot water.

One part of scratch baking that I dislike is measuring out the shortening, always found it a bother, until I started measuring with my ice cream scoop. My scoop holds exactly one-fourth cup, so it's a simple matter to scoop out the shortening, level off the top and drop it into the bowl. If you have an ice cream scoop give it a try. First fill the scoop with water and pour into a measuring cup to see how much it holds. Then your bothersome measuring days are over.

ONE EGG CAKE

2 cups sifted Cake Flour
1¼ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
1 large egg

Preheat the oven to 350-degrees. Grease generously and dust with flour an 8-inch square pan.

Measure and combine the two cups sifted cake flour, one and one-fourths cups sugar, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder and teaspoon salt. Sift into mixing bowl.

Add the third cup shortening, one teaspoon vanilla and two-thirds of the cup of milk. Mix at medium speed on mixer for 2 minutes. Or beat vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes, about 150 strokes a minute. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl as you beat.

Next add the remaining one-third cup milk and the unbeaten egg. Continue beating for two minutes more. Scraping bowl constantly.

Pour into prepared pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes.

FUDGE FROSING

2 squares chocolate
¼ cup milk
1 Tablespoon butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Combine the two squares chocolate, fourth cup milk and tablespoon butter in top of double boiler. Heat over hot water until chocolate melts, blend until smooth. Remove from heat; add the one cup sifted confectioners' sugar and blend until smooth and glossy. If too thin, add additional sugar until desired consistency.

You will note that both of these cakes call for cake flour. Cake flour is milled from winter wheat and it contains more starch and less gluten and therefore makes a finer textured and more fluffy cake.

Homeowners Hear Pleas

Rollingwood Homeowners at their regular bimonthly meeting last week heard pleas from two city officials for "closer homeowner surveillance of city funds" and for endorsement of the Traffic Safety Committee's plan to channel traffic in the privately-owned Pacific Heights Plaza Shopping Center parking lot.

Councilman Dick Griffith, a former secretary of the Rollingwood Association, returned to the Catalpa Way site from which nine years before he had launched the Rollingwood Round Robin Mortgage Trust Fund Study Committee to remind the gathering that "municipal utility water and cable-TV funds are also held in trust and must be guarded against manipulative raids on behalf of larger propertyholders who don't contribute to them."

Griffith pointed out that the postponed plans for cable-TV service starts still contemplate Rollingwood, Monte Verde and some Crestmoor hookups next April.

Traffic Committee Member Raymond Takai obtained a pledge from Rollingwood Homeowners that they would write a letter in support of the city's request to the owner of Pacific Heights Shopping Plaza to install dividers for better channeling of traffic in the parking lot.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

Contact Lens Causes Lou Ercoli Problems

The South San Francisco Leaning Tower co-owner Lou Ercoli took his family to a drive-in movie, the other evening, and his two year old daughter got so excited that she accidentally socked Lou in the eye, knocking out one of his contact lenses. Lou's comment was, "Have you ever watched a three-hour movie with your hand over one eye?" But that's not the "end." When returning home, a neighbor called the police when they saw a man with a flashlight going through his car at 3 a.m. (looking for you know what) . . . Frank and Fannie Torres, owners of Torres' Beach Restaurant at Montara, invite you to try one of their South American house specialties. These are mouth-watering dishes which have attracted patrons from all over California. "Definitely one of the finest restaurants in San Francisco." . . . High praise from Dick Loughlin of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, who frequently hosts luncheon and dinner meetings in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco.

Lou Ercoli

Augie Rosasco and Harold Varni, of Sil Oliva's Exposition Fish Grotto, are always eager to help patrons who can't make up their mind about what to order. They recommended Crab Mornay, a specialty of chef Art Davis, who won the Crab and Cioppino Olympics in San Francisco . . . Mr. Stanley Pollard, president of Ambassador Tours, and his wife, Leone, entertained a group of friends last Friday evening at Al Williams' Papagayo Room at Rockaway Beach, before their departure for a 16-day Theater Time Tour of London and Paris . . . Convention delegates are always great audiences on the summer showtime circuit, and this is especially true at Finocchio's. The medical people are always delighted with the show at this colorful North Beach nitery, and the jibes of Lucien, the "last of the redhot papas." But perhaps the best group in recent months were the P-TA-ers, who were convulsed by the wacky antics of lanky Elton Paris and Jackie Phillips. Every night is fun night at this spot . . . Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina District is one of the very few restaurants where you will never hear: "Sorry, this is not my table." At Lehr's, the entire staff assists your waitress to be sure the service is exceptionally excellent.

GRETA AND BILL, backed by drummer Gene Piccalo and Derick Kenzler on piano, are currently pleasing fans with their effortless style and a flawlessly staged show at the Executive House Hotel in Millbrae. The room pulsates with popular sounds and soothing ballads from 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays for dancing.

With vacations over and redecorating completed, Vic Scafani and John Graziano say, "we are ready for business." The South San Francisco Brentwood Lodge, which re-opens today, has always been a favorite Bay Area dining spot for luncheons, dinners and banquets . . . Considering the hot weather that we have had in the City recently, it is no wonder that the sales of beer at Day's restaurant went up astronomically. They serve the delightful Schnapps in a chilled stein for only 25c and it is a real thirst quencher. We think that Day's should change its motto from "the largest or longest bar in the West" to something like "Eat Out For Less," because that's what you can do at Day's. The food is top grade, choice meats and served at prices that are pre-recession. You can have a full meal for less than two dollars (that's dinner or lunch) or you can have sandwiches, both cold and hot, from 70c . . . Attention, all connoisseurs of fine cuisine; authentic North Italian cuisine is featured at the Black Stag restaurant in Belmont. "La Cucina Toscana" specialties are served for both luncheon and dinner.

John Graziano

The Matterhorn restaurant in Burlingame is elegantly styled to enhance every meal. European cuisine is the major attraction. Wilfried and Marion Blarer carefully prepare and serve their specialties of the house, one being Duck Flambe, which is shear delight . . . The Lord Fletcher Inn in Belmont, built and decorated on the order of an English pub, offers a varied menu of British dishes. The Inn is open for lunch Mondays through Fridays to serve businessmen who wish to relax after a busy morning . . . Dave Little "The Man" is back behind the organ at the New Southern in South San Francisco playing all the old favorites and countless new hits. Dave is now president of the Organ Players Association . . . Hank Faulkner, whose quitar and vocal talents have gained him the nick name of "Glen Campbell of the Peninsula", entertains with country and western music from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Hugo's Bistro at Hyatt House Burlingame. The Jimmy Vann Band plays for dancing six nights a week, Monday through Saturday. Dinner dancing in Hugo's restaurant on Saturday nights to George Cerruti.

'The Joker Will Be Wild' At The Lewis Salute

Bob Hope, Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra will host a Salute to Joe E. Lewis, a beloved entertainer whose career has spanned half a century, in the Versailles Room at Las Vegas Riviera Hotel, September 13. Sponsored by the Beverly Hills Friars Club, the affair is expected to gross $75,000, with all profits earmarked for the Friars' Youth Fund. Lewis, who started his show business career around Chicago in the Roaring Twenties, was portrayed by Frank Sinatra in a biofilm entitled "The Joker Is Wild." For years Lewis was king of the Las Vegas Strip and drew record salaries at the old El Rancho Vegas . . . Ree Brunell and The Barons headline at North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club, along with The Novelties. Ree, the former Miss Oakland, has warmth that quickly captures any audience.

Fred Williams Has A Musical 'Light Foot'

Friday and Saturday night dancing to lively music is becoming a popular feature around the Hillsdale Inn, San Mateo. In fact, you're very apt to catch Fred Williams doing the "Boog-A-Loo" behind the curtain when he thinks no one is looking. . . . Winter bowling leagues are now being formed at Kings Bowl, Millbrae, where the Blue Peacock restaurant is the meeting place for bowlers and friends to eat, drink, dance, and be merry . . . 70 employees from Crocker-Citizens National Bank will gather at Bruno's in downtown San Mateo for a dinner banquet tomorrow night. Bruno Fava has a special menu planned for the festive party. . . . Tom Garrett's Gold Rush Tavern, just north of the Dore Avenue turn-off on Bayshore in San Mateo, is a place of action when Lee and Leona Brown play groovy music on the drums and Cord-O-Vox. . . . Lovely Ann Reed is attracting big crowds in the lounge at the South San Francisco Holiday Inn. Ann does her "thing" on the guitar Tuesday through Sunday evenings. . . . Starting July 26, Roberto's restaurant in San Francisco will be open Sundays. Argentinian specialties include Parillada Mixta. To complement your meal, wines from Europe, South America and the United States are also served.

The Continental cuisine for gourmet diners at Atherton's Cote D'Azur restaurant is supervised by co-owner and chef Rene Canabou. Specialties of the house include Tournedos Rossinini, Duckling Flame with Peaches, and Chicken Saute Jerusalem. All meals are served by candlelight with impressive individual cart service. Dan Biagi, your genial host, reminds you that the Cote D'Azur is one of the few elegant Peninsula restaurants serving luncheon on Saturday until 4 p.m. Pianobar entertainment nightly by Hank Barron in the cocktail lounge . . . That rear entrance parking lot at Bruno's in the San Francisco Mission is a mighty safe place to park your car while dining. Police from Mission Station, while on a coffee break, pull in and park their squad cars — having a think-twice effect among the light-fingered set . . . The Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport, is preparing for the grand opening of its new Terrace Room August 1 with a banquet for the National Education Systems Corporation. The Terrace Room, one of the Peninsula's most beautifully decorated banquet rooms, can accommodate up to 300 persons for receptions, banquets and meetings and offers a panoramic view of the entire Airport Complex. The Hilton Inn also is constructing 16 new meeting rooms, which upon completion, will give the hotel 34 individual meeting rooms.

New Sinaloa Owner Plans Exciting Show Line-up

Bill Vroman, new owner of the Sinaloa cantina in North Beach, is introducing many unique innovations to his club, which we will be reporting on in weeks to come. The hottest news is that Bill has an exciting new line-up of talent on stage, including Dino Benetti, Fred Higuera, Jimmy Moore, and ever-popular entertainers as Paul Lara, Maria Dolores and Raquel Flores. And his menu is undergoing a revision, with emphasis on true Mexican cuisine and aged steaks . . . Chip Turiello of Chip's Serenade is the kind of host who attends to every detail in order to assure every patron comfort and dining satisfaction. The $3 steak dinner is a real favorite. The Frank Moses Quartet swings forth for happy dancers on Friday and Saturday nights . . . Ray Alves, host-owner of the Oyster Shell Restaurant in Redwood City, recommends the Steak and Lobster Combination as an excellent change of pace for the taste buds. Another specialty of the house is Crab Cioppino . . . The Lost Knight Cocktail Lounge in the Royal Inn, South San Frnacisco, is now featuring dancing to the Larry Polson Trio Tuesday through Saturday from 9 p.m. Lunches and dinners are served daily. The Jolly King restaurant is open every day all day.

Maria Dolores

Not only is Vince Licata's Italian and Sea Food restaurant an ideal place to dine and sip, its a convenient San Mateo location for take-out orders. Phone in your request and the food will be waiting upon your arrival . . . All the chicken you can eat for $2.85 is now served every day at Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken House in San Mateo. The complete dinner includes Soup du jour or Tossed Green Salad, Hot Biscuits with Butter and Honey, Dessert and Beverage. Only the finest plump chickens are used for Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken. "We are also proud of our pancakes," mentioned Wilfred Caldwell, manager. "Every one is made by recipe." . . . Theatre-goers, business people, or most anyone in the downtown San Francisco area find the Iron Horse restaurant is a convenient spot for luncheons and dinners.

St. Clair To Fight ABC Accusation

San Mateo County Supervisor Robert St. Clair of Millbrae said last week he fought an accusation by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control department that he is not the sole owner of the San Francisco liquor store that bears his name.

No date for the hearing has been scheduled but St. Clair said he will have some "surprises" when it is held.

"I'm not guilty of anything," he insisted, "so I'm really not too concerned about it."

The county lawmaker hinted darkly that the ABC accusation is a political offspring.

"I have ten years of an absolutely clean record in running that store," St. Clair said. "There never have been any complaints and there has not been one fair trade violation.

"So it is strange that ABC agents came up with this one at about the same time my name was being mentioned as a possible candidate for the State Senate."

St. Clair denied that his decision not to run for the Senate had any connection with the ABC investigation.

An accusation is the method used by the state agency to get a matter to a hearing. If the allegations are upheld, suspension or revocation of the license could be ordered.

The supervisor is licensed as the sole owner of Bob St. Clair's at 3910 Twenty-fourth Street in San Francisco. The accusation contends that a man named George Sack is a parter.

"He is not a partner," St. Clair said today. "He is a salesman for a wholesale liquor firm and works for me as a clerk.

"Sack and myself own the building, which has several rental units, including the space the store occupies, but he is not a partner in the business."

Board Says No Pool For Skyline

"In view of the critical need for additional classrooms at San Mateo County's junior colleges, construction of a swimming pool at Skyline College in San Bruno cannot be considered at this time."

That is the consensus of junior college district trustees as disclosed in a letter from Robert A. Tarver, board president, to the San Bruno City Council.

The council had proposed joint financing by the district and San Mateo County of an Olympic-size indoor pool at Skyline.

Tarver's reply states in part:

"As you know, an indoor pool of substantially smaller size is included in the district's master plan for Skyline College. While the larger pool you propose might not be required for physical education of students of the college, we recognize it would accommodate greater public recreational use and aquatic sports activity."

"The consensus of the trustees, voiced informally at their meetings of June 16 and 24, however, is that the initiation of any formal steps leading to installation of a pool at Skyline College — financed jointly with other governmental entities — should be deferred at this time."

"The trustees noted particularly that the district has no present uncommited capital outlay resources to devote to this project and that if construction funds are to be sought in the near future, they must — in view of mounting enrollment pressures and continually increasing taxation burdens on local property owners — be utilized only for the highest priority educational purposes, for classroom facilities.

"We shall be asking the voters on September 15 to approve an increase in tax rate for operations and a bond issue for these vitally needed classrooms. We believe that discussion of a swimming pool at this time would create opposition to a referendum which needs broad community support to assure the future of the colleges.

"Nonetheless, the board greatly appreciates the interest of the council in this matter. San Mateo Junior College District is thoroughly committed to community service and looks forward, as do you, to a time when a pool at Skyline College can be reasonably contemplated."

Park Site Tours Set In Bruno

San Bruno recreation commissioners are in the process of touring all the city's park sites, both developed and undeveloped.

The first phase of the survey began last Wednesday.

Joining the traveling session are new Teen Commissioners Miguel Martinez and Diane Gregory, Commissioners Pauline Sandkulla, Eleanor Mutto, David Nigel, Gene May, Albert Velez, Richard Liberty and Clarence Rollen as well as Acting City Manager Leo Van Dusen, Recreation Superintendent Michael Kiely and Councilman Dick Griffith.

Among the sites to be visited are the undeveloped Rollingwood Park and "Tank" Park in Crestmoor.

INCREASE

A recommended five per cent increase adjustment in the pay of a parking enforcement officer position by South San Francisco Personnel Board members is to be included in the total city pay package soon to come before the councilmen.
